THE MARION DAILY STAR.

VOL. XIV. NO. 93 | MARION, OHIO, TUESDAY, MARCH 10, 1891 | PRICE 3 CENTS

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Information Telegraphed from the National Capital.

THE RAILWAYS OF COLOMBIA.

An Interesting Document Received at the State Department from the United States Minister at Bogota — Other Items.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The department of state has received from the United States minister at Bogota an interesting statement concerning the railways of Colombia, on which he says: This country is among the most mountainous of the world. As a result all communication is, and always has been, most difficult and expensive. Nearly all freight must be transported by mule as soon as it leaves the great rivers.

The people here realize their difficulties caused by the tedious methods now employed, and with a commendable spirit of progress have made numerous contracts with various foreign companies for the construction of roads. For one reason or another the contracts have not been productive of great results. So that, to-day there are only nine railroads in the country, aggregating in length 230 kilometers, and two of these covering about forty-two kilometers were built by native companies.

Colombia, he says, has no system of railroads but only isolated short lines. The need of more and better constructed and better managed roads is keenly felt. This situation has induced the last congress to grant several concessions to foreign companies for the construction of new roads.

No Pardon for John C. Eno.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—President Harrison yesterday refused to grant a pardon to John C. Eno, the embezzling president of the Second National bank of New York. In doing so he follows the opinion of Attorney General Miller who, after referring to the character of the men who recommended the pardon, says he does not think "clemency ought to be extended to one who presents his petition as a fugitive in a foreign land, or whose friends present such petition for him under such circumstances."

The papers in the case are voluminous, and the names of those urging the pardon include Hon. T. C. Platt, Hon. W. C. Whitney, Elihu Root, F. A. Cockerill, Andrew Carnegie and the late Gen. Sherman. In the review of the case, the attorney general points out the high standing of the bank, the effect of its failure on the feverish money market, and the great amount—$3,750,000—embezzled.

A Novel Anniversary.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The director of the University of Havana, who is a commissioner from Cuba to the world's Columbian exposition, has been appointed chairman of the committee on schools, colleges, arts, sciences and history, and has proposed to the captain general of the island a novel plan for commemorating the anniversary of the discovery of America by Columbus and the subsequent voyages of the discoverer. He suggests that a Spanish naval fleet be sent to the point where Columbus first landed in America and follow his route as closely as possible to all of the places he visited in the new world upon his four voyages. This proposition meets with great favor from both the government and the people of Cuba, and is likely to be carried out.

Breaking Up a Swindle.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The postoffice department was yesterday advised of the arrest of M. Salamon at San Francisco for using the mails in sundry circulars advertising German-Austrian premium bonds. Salamon is said to be a confederate of E. H. Horner, of New York.

Edmund Harkbrenler and George Leingruter were also arrested in St. Louis yesterday charged with being confederates of Horner. Other arrests and prosecutions are expected to follow these in different parts of the country. The postoffice department officials are determined to break up what has come to be known as the "foreign bond swindle."

Deserting the Capital.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—About two-thirds of the members of the Fifty-first congress have returned to their homes. The few that remain are busily engaged in making preparations to depart. A few members were noticed visiting the departments to settle various matters for their constituents, which could not be attended to during the rush of the closing hours of congress.

Lymph Must Be Returned.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Surgeon General Hamilton, of the Marine hospital service, has received information that Gozzler, the minister of education and culture at Berlin, has ordered all chemists who sell Koch's lymph to return, after six months, all lymph remaining unused to the laboratory where prepared, where they will receive fresh lymph in return for it.

Cincinnati Ball Club Sold.

CLEVELAND, March 10.—The Cincinnati club made another jump last night and landed in the middle of the National League for $20,000, $20,000 cash and a $4,000 note, payable July 1, 1891. The seller was Al Johnson, of the Brotherhood, and the buyer Frank Chamberlin, of Cleveland, O., who is a business associate of J. Palmer O'Neil.

Another Temperance Lesson.

CINCINNATI, March 10.—Nicholas Vincent, aged 40, a bachelor, proprietor of a cobbling shop at 9— Freeman avenue, met with a horrible death yesterday. While under the influence of liquor and alone in his shop he upset a lamp and set his clothes on fire, and before assistance arrived was burned to death.

OCEAN STEAMER SUNK.

Twenty Passengers and Entire Crew Given Up for Lost.

SEATTLE, Wash., March 10.—The steamer Buckeye, with twenty passengers and her crew, is reported lost in the gale of Sunday night on Puget sound, between Edmunds and Appletree cove. The Buckeye left Edmunds Sunday morning for Appletree cove, across the sound eight miles distant, taking about twenty passengers, mostly women and children, who went for a pleasure trip. At Appletree cove, the Buckeye loaded a cargo of vegetables and started back, but at last accounts had not reached Edmunds, and had not been seen by any passing vessel.

A heavy gale blew Sunday night, and being an unseaworthy craft, it is supposed the Buckeye went down with all on board. A light was seen by some Edmunds longshoremen at 2 o'clock Monday morning during the storm, which is supposed to have been that of the Buckeye. It suddenly disappeared and was seen no more. Large quantities of vegetables are being washed ashore at Edmunds by the tide.

Probably Another Disaster.

NEW YORK, March 10.—Considerable anxiety in shipping circles is felt regarding the safety of the four-masted schooner William Neely, which was in collision on the morning of the 6th inst. off Fenwick island, with the three-masted schooner John C. Gregory. The Gregory returned to this port yesterday for repairs, all her foregear having been carried away. The Neely is a much larger vessel, and it is feared she has gone down. She was bound from Baltimore to this port.

PRONOUNCED A FAKE.

The Story of a Scheme to Seize the Hawaiian Government Discredited.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—"It is a bundle of nonsense," said an associate of the Spreckels when shown the Chicago dispatch in which S. H. Gladding, said to be a sugar importer of this city, refers to the possibility of "Gen." Volney Ashford as very likely being at the head of a conspiracy to seize the government of Hawaii, and the possibility of that gentleman soon becoming King Volney the First, of Hawaii.

"In the first place, we know of no person, either at the island or here by the name of S. H. Gladding. In the second place, Hawaii, to-day, has no army or military forces that Col. Ashford could control, as suggested, if he desired to. Col. Ashford is an attorney, a very quiet fellow, and was never a member of King Kalakaua's cabinet. His brother, Clarence Ashford, was attorney general in the so-called revolution cabinet. These things are made much more of here that at the islands, and any reports of trouble should not be credited."

MAIL BURNED.

Eighteen Sacks of Letters and Thirty-Five Sacks of Newspapers Destroyed.

AMSTERDAM, N. Y., March 10.—Last night as the Chicago express, west-bound, on the New York Central railroad, due in this city at 10:56 p. m., was five miles east of here, one of the baggage cars was discovered to be on fire. The burning car was detached and brought to this city, where the fire was soon extinguished but not until most of the contents of the car were destroyed.

The car contained eighteen sacks of letters and thirty-five sacks of newspapers sent out in advance of the regular postal car in order to make closer connections. The sacks contained mail for Buffalo, Erie, Lockport, Cleveland, Toledo and points along the line of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad.

RAILROAD DEAL.

The Chesapeake, Ohio and Southwestern Will Control the Ohio Valley Road.

LOUISVILLE, March 10.—It is practically settled that the Ohio Valley railway will pass soon into the control of the Chesapeake, Ohio and Southwestern railroad. P. G. Kelsey, president of the Ohio Valley, and C. P. Huntington, of the Chesapeake road, Saturday signed a memorandum of sale, which is subject to the approval of the stockholders.

Little doubt exists that this approval will be given, and in about sixty days the formal transfer will probably be made. The acquisition of the road will bring Mr. Huntington's road to the Ohio river, and within 287 miles of Chicago. It virtually gives through connections and entrace into Chicago to the Chesapeake, Ohio and Southwestern.

TRAIN ROBBER CONFESSES.

Particulars of the Plot by Which the Rio Grande Road Lost $25,000.

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., March 10.—The particulars of the plot which resulted in the robbery of a train on the Rio Grande railroad on Jan. 19, and loss of $25,000 have come to light. Juan Benits, a rich planter, is in jail here, and has confessed. The leader of the party is a well known smuggler named Simon Garciol. The night after the robbery he stole three horses and left for Mexico. He is being pursued by Mexican cavalry.

A portion of the stolen money has been recovered, and all the robbers will probably be captured. They were all ranchers living in this county. There was a disagreement among them over the division of the spoils, and one of the bandits named Angel Cortins was shot and killed by the leader.

Two More Victims.

JACKSONVILLE, Ill., March 10.—Two of the passengers injured in the Jacksonville Southeastern wreck Sunday near Havana, Charles Mulhaney, of Streator, Ill., and Walter Conover, of Manitou, Ill., died last night and their remains will be sent home. W. Bateman, the express messenger, is suffering severely, but will probably recover. Engineer Birkenhead is also suffering a great deal from his injuries.

CABLE CULLINGS.

News Items from Different Places in the Old World.

MINERS' STRIKE ALARMING.

A Body of Troops Stationed at Westphalia to Suppress an Outbreak That Is Hourly Feared — A Tragic Scene in Paris—Prince Jerome Napoleon Dying. The Blizzard in Southwest England. Other Foreign Dispatches.

LONDON, March 10.—Advices from Westphalia are of an alarming character. Several Socialists have been arrested by the police on the charge of inciting the miners to break their agreement with their employers, and a considerable body of troops is stationed in the disturbed district, ready to subdue any serious outbreak.

The miners, however, are firm. They claim that the present wages are not sufficient, and that their families endure privation a good part of the year while the hours are too long. The mine owners, with the police and soldiers behind them, absolutely refuse any concession. Bloodshed is feared as the result of the struggle. It is said that the women are even more determined than the men in clamoring for better treatment and defying the authorities.

Mohammedan Worship.

LONDON, March 10.—A singular contest has just been terminated before the judicial committee of the royal privy council. Certain Mohammedans worshipping in a mosque at Tafpore, India, claimed that the leader and cryer in prayers were heretics because they uttered "Amen" aloud, and raised their hands to their ears at a certain point in the prayers. The aggrieved worshippers sued to have the alleged heretics ejected from their offices. The case was carried from court to court in India at great expense, and finally to the privy council in England. The privy council decides, after exhaustive inquiry, that the acts alleged are not heresy. It is considered a singular spectacle that the Christian council of a Christian queen should decide nice points of "Mohammedan doctrine."

Tragic Scene in Paris.

PARIS, March 10.—A tragic scene was yesterday witnessed at the hippodrome, where the spectacle of "Nero" was in rehearsal. A graphic feature of the show as it is proposed to be rendered, consists in an attack by a number of lions upon wooden effigies of the human form which are placed in the arena. The lion tamer, Monsieur Seets had just concluded the morning's drill of six lions and was driving them back into their cages when one of the brutes sprang upon him, burying its teeth and claws deep into his flesh, and rending him in a fearful manner. Another trainer and several attendents came to the rescue, and the infuriated animal was finally placed behind the bars of its cage. The latest information is that M. Seets cannot survive his injuries.

Spanish Troops to Be Sent to Cuba.

PARIS, March 10.—The Temps says that the Spanish government is about to dispatch a force of troops to Cuba owing to the growing agitation in that island, the situation having become worse since Campos became viceroy. The Madrid press protests against Americans encouraging the Cuban separatists in connection with the American treaty.

Prince Napoleon Dying.

ROME, March 10.—Prince Jerome Napoleon's physicians announce that both lungs of their patient are congested, and that but a few hours can elapse before a fatal result is reached. The prince has repeatedly and positively declined the religious consolation which has been proffered by priests who have been permitted to enter the chamber of the dying man.

Germany Will Send an Exhibit.

BERLIN, March 10.—The leading manufacturers of Germany will meet in Berlin next week to consider their course toward the Chicago exposition, and to appoint a committee to take charge of the German interests. The German exhibits will doubtless be extensive. The leading merchants and aldermen of Berlin are invited to join in the deliberations.

Talked Too Much.

BERLIN, March 10.—A soldier in Breslau has been sentenced to a long term of imprisonment for expressing an unfavorable view on the kaiser's military abilities. An officer who heard the man knocked him down, and then ordered him to be court martialed.

Blizzard in Southwest England.

LONDON, March 10.—The blizzard in the southwest of England is the severest on record coming, as it did, on the top of pleasant weather. Hundreds of sheep and lambs have perished in the snow drifts, and many minor wrecks are reported.

Windthorst Endorsed.

BERLIN, March 10.—Windthorst has received numerous letters from all parts of Germany endorsing his course in opposition to increased naval appropriations. The emperor proposes to have a personal conference with the Catholic leader.

Stabbed for a Quarter.

CHICAGO, March 10.—About midnight Sunday night Edward Fraher and James Downing, two young clerks, became engaged in a quarrel over the possession of twenty-five cents, which one of them found. Downing put the coin in his pocket and Fraher demanded it. Downing drew a pocketknife and stabbed Fraher in the breast twice and in the left leg below the knee. The wounded man was taken to the hospital and his assailant was locked up. Fraher's wounds may prove fatal.

SENATOR HEARST'S SUCCESSOR.

Balloting Will Begin in Sacramento To-Day—Detectives on Hand.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—The legislature will commence balloting at Sacramento to-day noon for a United States senator to succeed the late George Hearst. The fight promises to be prolonged and very exciting.

The candidates are Morris M. Estee, ex-Congressman George O. Felton, M. H. DeYoung, George H. Bonebrake, ex-Governor George C. Perkins, Gen. N. P. Chipman and ex-Senator A. P. Williams. The Democratic vote will probably go to one of the following persons: James V. Colman, ex-Mayor Pond, Congressman Thomas J. Clunie or William D. English.

The Republicans have a majority of 60 in the legislature, but it is thought no choice will be made for several days. The Republicans have as yet called no caucus.

The Southern Pacific candidates, Estee and Felton, will probably lead in the contest. Standford is supposed to be favorable to Estee. Col. Crocker is against Estee and favorable to Felton and Huntington, it is said, is disposed to cast an influence he has toward DeYoung in preference to the other two candidates. This supposed attitude of Huntington is attributed to his expressed determination to take the railroad out of politics.

A curious development of the senatorial fight is the story that five Chicago detectives have arrived here to witness the balloting. Information of their presence was brought to the city by a Sacramento man who came from the east on the same train. The detectives said they were going to Monterey to escape the rigors of a Chicago winter, but got off at Sacramento. What business they have here can only be guessed at, but as they are known to have been making the acquaintance of lobbyists and members, it is believed that they are here on senatorial business. One story is that they have been employed by the National Democratic committee to procure evidence of corruption, and in case the senator to be elected buys his seat, he will be followed to Washington and prevented from taking his seat.

DESPERATE MEN MEET.

One Man Dead and Another Fatally Wounded.

MIDDLESBOROUGH, Ky., March 10.—A conflict among desperate men took place Sunday night at Cumberland Gap, Tenn., resulting in the death of Hugh Johnson, a saloonkeeper, at the hands of Shelley Gibson, Jr. Mose Gibson, his brother, was also shot during the melee by Garrett Southers, a friend of Johnson.

From what can be learned it seems that Johnson accused Gibson's father of having him indicted for selling whisky illegally. When this came to the ears of Gibson, Jr., it aroused his ire and he pronounced it false, and when he and Johnson met Sunday night the latter pulled a gun on him and grabbed his collar. Gibson seized the revolver and wrenching it from his hand, shot Johnson, killing him instantly. Mose Wilson, who was shot by Southers, will die.

RAN AWAY FROM HOME.

One Boy Brought Back Dead, the Other Mortally Wounded.

PITTSBURG, March 10.—Eugene Flynn and Thomas Ferguson, aged respectively 17 and 15, ran away from their homes in this city last Thursday, with the evident intention of going to New York city. Yesterday Ferguson's dead body was brought back to the city, while Flynn lies in a Harrisburg hospital mortally wounded.

The boys were run down by a shifting train in the railroad yards at Harrisburg. Just how the accident occurred will probably never be learned. The Ferguson family formerly resided in New York. The boys had frequently expressed a determination to visit that city, and it is believed were carrying out this determination.

Fearing the Highbinders.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—A package containing $6,000 worth of diamonds was stolen from Mrs. M. Willis, a widow, last week. Yesterday a Chinese servant in her employ returned the package to Mrs. Willis, but he refused to give her any information in regard to the theft. The police authorities have learned that that Chinaman is a well known Highbinder, and have advised the widow not to discharge or attempt to prosecute him, no matter how strongly she might suspect the Mongolian of having something to do with the theft, as they believe the Highbinders would surely take revenge on Mrs. Willis if she were instrumental in getting one of their number into trouble.

Canada's New Government.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 10.—The government organ here figures out the government majority at 31. Of the three elections to be held it gives Cariboo and Algoma to the government and Huntington to the opposition. There is a good deal of speculation here as to the probable composition of the new cabinet. The most reliable slate makes no changes in the personnel from the last cabinet, except in the cases of Ministers Carling and Colby, who were defeated. Carling's place is given to Peter White, of Renfrew, and Colby's place to J. J. Curran, of Montreal.

Beaten by St. Louis Hoodlums.

ST. LOUIS, March 10.—James Poiners, a Cincinnati drummer, was assaulted and frightfully beaten by a gang of hoodlums at Seventh and Hickory streets last night. He was found insensible on the sidewalk by a police officer and taken to the hospital, where he now is. The cause of the assault is unknown.

Country Residence Burned.

SARATOGA, N. Y., March 10.—Fire this morning destroyed "Yaddo," the country residence of Spencer Trask, the New York broker. Loss, $60,000; insurance, $25,000.

OHIO STATE NEWS.

Dispatches Detailing Important Happenings.

MONEY FOR BEING A CONVICT.

A Novel Suit Filed at Urbana, in Which an Ex-Convict Asks for $1,340 for Serving Two Years in the Penitentiary. Other Buckeye Dispatches.

URBANA, O., March 10.—The common pleas court here has been called on to decide a very novel suit. Michael McFadden, who has completed a term in the penitentiary of two years for larceny, has sued David Hanley, of Woodstock, for $1,340. The plaintiff alleges that he entered a plea of guilty to the charge of larceny, upon the solicitation of Henley, and that it was agreed if he would plead guilty, he would be paid for the time he was in the penitentiary. McFadden carried out his part of the agreement, but Henley now refuses to make good his part of the contract. The plea of guilty on the part of McFadden had the effect of saving a son of Henley's from going to the penitentiary.

Seeking Redress by Law.

FINDLAY, O., March 10.—Recently Charles McClinton eloped with Miss Minnie Minott, daughter of a wealthy Crawford county farmer. Three days after the marriage she returned home with her husband to seek forgiveness, which was refused, and a few hours afterward she committed suicide. McClinton has now begun suit against the father of the bride to recover damages in the sum of $50,000, alleging as the cause of such action that the father exercised undue influence over his daughter, resulting in her suicide, and that by her death McClinton's affections had been damaged and his financial prospects ruined.

New Incorporations.

COLUMBUS, O., March 10.—Articles of incorporation filed with the secretary of state yesterday: The Schmidt Brothers Brewing company, Cincinnati, capital stock $150,000; the H. F. Bowlus Tile company, Hobart, capital stock $8,000; the Christian Union Sunday school, Macedonia, Summit county; the R. Crocker Grocery and Crockery company, Fostoria, capital stock $15,000, the Victor Manufacturing company, Springfield, capital stock $25,000; the Pacific Gas Condensing company, Cleveland, capital stock $30,000; the Star Athletic Club company, Cleveland, capital stock $2,000.

Legislative Work.

COLUMBUS, O., March 10.—Bills were introduced in the house providing for the disposition of the direct tax to counties, to prevent clairvoyants, mediums or fortune tellers from taking money or other consideration for the practice of their so-called profession, to appropriate $10,000 from the direct tax fund to build a governor's mansion, to authorize the commissioners of Hamilton county to build a $60,000 addition to Longview asylum. There are prospects that the Cincinnati charter will be passed Friday.

Wounded by Hot Iron.

UPPER SANDUSKY, O., March 10.—An oil well driller named Ben Moses, working at a well in the field north of here, was working with a piece of red hot iron when it flew out of his hand, striking him in the jaw, penetrating over an inch. The flesh burned with a sickening sizz and the man's suffering was intense. The iron was withdrawn and he is getting along fairly well. It is feared lockjaw will ensue.

Fight Ends in Manslaughter.

CLEVELAND, March 10.—J. F. Bell, a machinist, fought with William Kershaw, a fellow-workman, on Friday last, and received a blow upon the head with an iron nut. He had to be taken home in an ambulance, and yesterday died of his injuries. Kershaw is under arrest. The fight was the result of an old feud.

Youthful Woodchopper's Instant Death.

VAN WERT, O., March 10.—While chopping timber near this city, a 12-year-old son of John Thompson was crushed to death by a large tree falling upon him. The boy saw his danger and attempted to get away, but did not succeed. His head was crushed and his back broken. Death resulted instantly.

RIOTOUS STRIKERS.

Dastardly Work Done by Twenty-Five Polish Jews.

JAMAICA, L. I., March 10.—Yesterday morning twenty-five Polish Jews, all striking cloakmakers, came from New York and attacked the store of a fellow-countryman named Greenbaum, who does contract work for a New York manufacturer. They broke open the doors, destroyed the furniture of the place and $500 worth of goods, on which they poured vitriol, severely beating Greenbaum and his wife. Greenbaum's 4-year-old child was badly burned with the vitriol. The cries of Greenbaums brought a crowd, when the strikers fled. Only one, Frank Rango, was arrested. He was identified as the one throwing the vitriol.

Miners Locked Out.

ISHPEMING, Mich., March 10.—Two hundred and fifty miners at the Lake shaft of the Cleveland mine are locked out. They wish to start from their work in the mine at 5:45, taking fifteen minutes to climb the ladders, change their clothes and wash themselves. Capt. Frank P. Mills, the superintendent, denied the men this privilege, but they insisted on coming up on Saturday night as usual, and were ordered not to go to work Monday morning. They insisted on a hearing, and a conference will be held. The men are feeling very ugly, and trouble is feared.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—U. S. Gov't Report, Aug. 17, 1889.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

ELECTIONS IN MAINE.

Municipal Contests Decided in Several Cities.

BIDDEFORD, Me., March 10.—The city election yesterday resulted in the election of the full Democratic ticket in every ward. Mayor Edward W. Stahles had 1,191 votes. Dr. John Lord, Republician, 675, a Democratic gain of 140 over a year ago.

At Bangor.

BANGOR, Me., March 10.—Joseph F. Snow, Democrat, was elected mayor yesterday by nearly 400 plurality over Beale, Republican, and Fox, Prohibitionist. The Republicans carried four of the seven wards as usual. Many Republicans voted and worked for Snow.

At Belfast.

BELFAST, March 10.—Hon. William P. Thompson, late Democratic nominee for governor, was elected mayor yesterday by 430 majority. Both branches of the city government are Republican.

At Augusta.

AUGUSTA, Me., March 10.—J. W. Chase, Republican, was elected mayor yesterday over R. J. Martin by over 202 plurality. The Republicans carried every ward in the city but one.

DEAR PRAIRIE CHICKENS.

A South Dakota Farmer Will Pay $20,000 for a Few of These Birds.

ST. PAUL, March 10.—William Slaughter, a wealthy farmer of Clay county, S. Dak., has got himself into a remarkable tangle, from which it will cost him more than $20,000 to extricate himself. He was caught by the sheriff of his county and taken to Vermillion, together with nineteen barrels of prairie chickens, which he admits having killed.

The penalty for violating the law is $10 for each bird, and as he had 2,080 of the birds barreled up, it is very easy to figure out the amount he is indebted to the state. There are no loopholes in the law, and Mr. Slaughter has goods and chattels enough to pay for his sport.

THE MARKETS.

Review of the Grain and Cattle Markets for March 9.

Boston.

WOOL—Ohio and Pennsylvania XXX and picklock 37c, XX 3 @34c, X 31@32c, No 1 37@38c No. 3 3 @37c, fine unwashed 22@23c unmerchantable 21@25c, Ohio combing No 1 ⅜ and ¼-blood 40@42c, No. 2 ¼-blood 39c, Ohio delaine 38@40c, Michigan X and above 29@30c, No. 1 36c, No. 2 35@36c, fine unwashed 21@22c, unmerchantable 23@24c, Michigan combing No. ⅜ and ¼-blood 38@40c, No. 2 ¼-blood 35c, Michigan delaine 35@35½c, Kentucky, Indiana and Missouri spring northern free six to eight months' 60c, do southern twelve months' 58@60c, do six to eight months' 54 @55c, free fall 5 @37c, do defective 23@40c, Georgia and southern 27@27½c, pulled wools (scoured basis) extra 62@67c, A super 55@60c, B super 47@52c, No. 1 27@30c, combing 42@45c, fine combing 55@60c.

Cincinnati Tobacco.

	Hhds.
Offerings for the week	2,682
Offerings for same week last year	2,400
Receipts for the week	1,516
Receipts same week last year	1,145
Offerings of new were	1,115

The 2,682 hhds sold as follows:

610 hhds at	$1 10@ 3 95
635 hhds at	4 00@ 5 90
454 hhds at	6 00@ 7 95
310 hhds at	8 00@ 9 95
204 hhds at	10 00@11 75
184 hhds at	12 00@14 75
150 hhds at	15 00@19 75
81 hhds at	21 00@24 25
4 hhds at	25 50@28 25

Cincinnati.

WHEAT—96@1 01.

CORN—58@60c.

WOOL—Unwashed fine merino, 17@18c; ¼-blood combing, 22@23c; medium delaine and clothing, 23@24c; braid, 17@18c; medium clothing, 23@24c; fleece washed fine merino X and XX, 28@29c; medium clothing, 30@31c.

CATTLE—Good to choice butchers, $4 60@4 65, fair to medium, $3 00@3 90; common, $1 50@2 70.

HOGS—Selected butchers and heavy shipping, $3 75@3 90; fair to good mixed, $3 65@3 85, common to rough, $3 35@3 60; fair to good light, $3 55@3 70; pigs $2 25@3 45.

SHEEP—$3 00@6 00.

LAMBS—4 25@6 75

Pittsburg.

CATTLE—Prime, $4 80@5 30; fair to good, $4 25@4 75; common, $3 50@4 15; bulls, stags and fat cows, $3 50@3 75.

HOGS—Yorkers, $3 70@3 85; tops, $3 90@4 05, pigs, $3 25@3 50.

SHEEP—Extra, $5 75@6 00; fair, $4 10@4 80; common, $3 00@3 50.

LAMBS—$1 50@6 40.

New York.

WHEAT—No 2 red winter, $1 15¾; May, $1 10⅞.

CORN—Mixed, 68½c.

OATS—No 2 mixed, 56½c.

CATTLE—Steers, $4 00@5 60; mixed, $2 15@4 25.

SHEEP—$5 50@6 55.

LAMBS—$5 00@7 —.

Chicago.

HOGS—Light, $3 25@3 55; mixed, $3 30@3 60; heavy, $3 35@3 75.

CATTLE—Extra beeves, $5 00@5 60; steers, $4 00@4 —; mixed, $1 25@3 50.

SHEEP—$4 00@6 00.

LAMBS—$5 10@7 15.

Cleveland Oil.

REFINED—W. W. 110 deg. 6¾c; 74 deg. gasoline, 8½ ; 86 deg. gasoline, 12c; 63 deg. naphtha, 6¾c.

Dashed to Death at a Crossing.

LANSING, Mich., March 10.—William McLaughlin and his son were instantly killed and Mrs. McLaughlin fatally injured by a Grand Trunk passenger train near Shaftsburg yesterday. The family was driving home from a Sunday visit to relatives. They did not see the approaching train, and drove fairly in front of it. The train was going at a terrific speed. The engine struck the rig between the wheels and threw it into the air. Both father and son were dead when the train was stopped, and the mother cannot recover.

Indiana Legislature Adjourns Sine Die.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 10.—The fee and salary bill was vetoed by Governor Hovey yesterday. In a lengthy message the governor gives as his main reason for refusing to sign the bill the fact that the bill is not effective at once and permits the present incumbents all over the state to extort fees from the public for the next two years. The bill was passed over the governor's veto by both houses and becomes a law. The legislature adjourned sine die last night.

Foul Play Suspected.

LYONS, Iowa, March 10.—Taylor Brothers' foundry and machine shop burned here at an early hour this morning. Loss, $6,000; insurance, $3,200. The body of the watchman, T. L. Taggert, has been found, face downward in the ruins. He was seen moving about the building about half an hour before the fire was discovered. Foul play is suspected.

Killed by an Express Train.

HAZELTON, Pa., March 10.—An express train bound for Philadelphia yesterday, dashed into a crowd of boys who were walking on the track toward Weatherly. The boys were on the up-track and stepped on the other track to avoid a special passenger train. They did not see the express coming along and two of them, Albert Weeks, aged 13, and George Reese, aged 17, were struck and killed.

Louisville and Nashville Election.

NEW YORK, March 10.—At a meeting of the board of directors of the Louisville and Nashville road yesterday, the office of chairman of the board was created, and Mr. August Belmont was elected to occupy the position in control of the New York office of the company. Milton H. Smith, the present vice president, was elected president, with his office at Louisville, Ky.

The Price of Prayer Reduced.

MADISON, Wis., March 10.—The retrenchment committee of the legislature is considering a proposition to reduce the pay of the clergymen of Madison, who are called on to open the sessions of the two houses with prayer. The last legislature reduced the price to $10 a prayer, and now it is proposed to make the price $10 a week.

The Weather.

Fair weather; clearing on the lakes; warmer by Wednesday; southwesterly winds.

The Best Result.

Every ingredient employed in producing Hood's Sarsaparilla is strictly pure, and is the best of its kind it is possible to buy. All the roots and herbs are carefully selected, personally examined, and only the best retained. So that from the time of purchase until Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared, everything is carefully watched with a view to attaining the best result. Why don't you try it?

SIMMONS LIVER REGULATOR

SYMPTOMS OF LIVER DISEASE:

Loss of appetite; bad breath; bad taste in the mouth; tongue coated; pain under the shoulder-blade; in the back or side—often mistaken for rheumatism; sour stomach with flatulency and water-brash; indigestion; bowels lax and costive by turns; headache, with dull, heavy sensation; restlessness, with sensation of having left something undone which ought to have been done; fullness after eating; bad temper; blues; tired feeling; yellow appearance of skin and eyes; dizziness, etc.

Not all, but always some of these indicate want of action of the Liver. For

A Safe, Reliable Remedy

that can do no harm and has never been known to fail to do good

Take Simmons Liver Regulator

—AN EFFECTUAL SPECIFIC FOR—

Malaria, Bowel Complaints, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Constipation, Biliousness, Kidney Affections, Jaundice, Mental Depression, Colic.

A PHYSICIAN'S OPINION.

"I have been practicing medicine for twenty years and have never been able to put up a vegetable compound that would, like Simmons Liver Regulator, promptly and effectually move the Liver to action, and at the same time aid (instead of weakening) the digestive and assimilative powers of the system."

L. M. HINTON, M.D., Washington, Ark.

ONLY GENUINE

Has our Z Stamp in red on front of wrapper.

J. H. Zeilin & Co., Philadelphia, Pa.

The Marion Daily Star.

Published Every Evening Except Sunday
—BY—
W. G. HARDING.

TERMS:
Delivered by Carrier.....10 Cts. per Week.
By Mail..........$4 per Year, in Advance.

TUESDAY. - - - - MARCH [illegible]

The city council will begin tonight to get the sewerage matter in shape for the incoming body to take it [illegible] without any unnecessary delays.

Twenty skilled workmen have been laid off by a Columbus manufacturer who contemplates the passage of the Rawlings bill. This is the beginning of the result that would follow the passage of that obnoxious measure, unfair both to employer and employe.

The Lucy Parsons of the Kansas Farmers' Alliance, Mrs. Lease, is receiving much notoriety as the blatherskite of that booming organization. Her declarations at the recent Women's Council in Washington were enough to shame all the good women of that notable assembly. Mrs. Lease may pursue the fight against the capitalists "from the banks of Wall street to the gates of hell," but it is doubtful if the women of sense and decency will care to follow her in her wild and fanciful pursuit.

There appears to be an almost unanimity of sentiment throughout the state favoring State Auditor Poe's suggestion in regard to refunding the direct tax to the counties to which it belongs. The proposition, if carried into execution, would certainly do an immense amount of good. Think what could be done with Marion county's share of $9,484.16 toward repairing the highways of the county. The legislature could certainly not do a better act than to follow Mr. Poe's suggestion.

A wave of almost incomprehensible virtue has struck Minnesota, a result of which is the introduction in the state senate of a bill which prohibits the appearance on any stage or in any public place of actresses dressed in tights. Another exhibition of this extreme desire to be modest is the action the Wyoming legislature in protesting against the nude figure of Liberty which appears on the state seal. The latter has had a parallel at the Ada normal school, when a statue of Apollo was clothed. If this thing keeps on some people will become too nice to accept the "naked truth" as it is dished up by the newspapers.

The Sonerant amendment to the Rawlings bill is apparently as undesirable as the orginal. Mr. Sonerant's bill is entitled, "A bill to amend Section 2742 of the Revised Statutes of Ohio," and provides that section 2742 shall read as follows:

> Every person who shall purchase, receive or hold personal property of any description for the purpose of adding to the value thereof by any process of manufacturing, refining, rectifying, or by other combinations of different materials with a view of making a profit by so doing, shall be held to be a manufacturer, and at all times when he shall be required to make and to deliver to the assessor a statement of his other personal property of taxation, he shall in like manner make a statement of, and list for taxation all articles of material purchased, received or otherwise held on hand for the purpose of being used in whole or in part in process or operation of manufacturing, combining, rectifying or refining, and including the value of all manufactured articles on hand, in actual possession or elsewhere held for sale or storage, and in addition thereto attest on oath or affirmation, the value of all such personal property appertaining to his business as a manufacturer, including manufactured articles on hand, and that no property has in any manner been disposed of or secreted for the purpose of evading taxation.

It does not require much study of the above to discover that its passage would result in an effort of the manufacturer to evade the law, and the consequence would be to shut down shops during the winter to avoid the possibility of having any great amount of material on hand in course of manufacture. The consequence would be to throw laboring men out of work during the winter months. It is understood the bill will come up for discussion tomorrow.

Attention, S. of V.'s!

HEADQUARTERS M. [illegible] CAMP, No. [illegible], OHIO DIVISION, S. [illegible] V., U. S. A.

All members and recruits of the above camp are requested to be at the lodge room as early as possible on Wednesday evening, March 11. The oriental degree will be conferred upon several candidates and business of importance must be transacted.

By order of Captain.

O. F[illegible], First Sergeant.

Trotting Association Officers.

At the regular annual meeting of the Marion Trotting Association, held Saturday, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Harry B. [illegible], president; B. P. Hord, vice president; J. E. Crow, secretary; F. [illegible], treasurer; [illegible] K. Guthery, N. [illegible] and James Irvine, board of directors.

Mary L. [illegible] was today granted a divorce from Robert [illegible] on the grounds of gross neglect of duty and willful absence, and restored to her maiden name of Mary L. Renirew.

F. H. Kin[illegible], traveling salesman for the Marion Steam Shovel Co., returned home this morning from Chicago, having taken three orders during his short stay in that city.

WELL GATED.

The Employes of the Erie Engage in a Fight, and the Railroad Officials Investigate the Matter.

Last Sunday night [illegible] of the Cl[illegible] and [illegible] an Erie [illegible] quarrel over the right of way, and the quarrel resulted in a lively [illegible]. It seems that the switch [illegible] has the right of the Main track [illegible] over second class trains, and that [illegible] wanted Conners [illegible] switch engine to move the engine so that he could get past with his train. This they refused to do, and Brown struck at Conners and a general fight [illegible] getting the worst of it. [illegible] it is said that the yardmaster was obliged to put a stop to the quarrel.

The matter was reported, and John Doll and [illegible] of the Erie and C and E[illegible] were here today investigating the matter but have not as yet made known the results of the investigation.

Far Seeing People

Are most successful. Their perception of opportunities, where others see nothing, is the secret of their success. Those who travel the Buckeye Route in their journeys to and from home find much to surprise and please, and their far seeing propensities in selecting this "popular line" saves them many a penny in the purchase of tickets.

Thousands of people travel the Buckeye Route every year in preference to all others. The question arises, why? Because the equipment and road bed of the Buckeye Route is unexcelled; because its trains run at frequent and reasonable hours; because every possible comfort is offered the traveling public enroute to Chicago, Detroit, Toledo, Pomeroy and Athens, and all points in the Northwest, South and East. Any agent of the Buckeye Route will be pleased to give you information concerning routes, time of trains, price of tickets, etc., if you will write or call upon them.

W. A. FISHER,
Gen'l Pass. and Ticket Agt.
805. Columbus, O.

Tourists.

Whether on pleasure bent or business, should take on every trip a bottle of Syrup of Figs, as it acts most pleasantly and effectually on the kidneys, liver and bowels, preventing fevers, headaches and other forms of sickness. For sale in 50c and $1 bottles by all leading druggists.

Scioto Girl was taken to Mansfield Saturday, where she will go into training under the care of Willis Laird. The mare is in good condition and it is thought she will better her record next season. Mr. Laird will make the Natural Gas Circuit with her and will then go to Michigan.

John T. Clark, superintendent of the American Express Co., was in the city today while making his rounds, and visited the boys at the local office.

Go to Music Hall Wednesday night and patronize the "Best People On Earth."

Over 400 seats have been sold for the Elks' benefit, Wednesday evening.

Elks' Benefit, Wednesday night.

[illegible] Chaplain

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 10.—Alfred C. Raymond, a veteran manufacturer and examiner died yesterday. He was graduated from Yale academy and theological department, and occupied the pulpit in Connecticut and New York, and during the war of the rebellion was a chaplain stationed at Fortress Monroe.

Three Fishermen Drowned.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 10.—David Searbury, Romain Van Warner and Joseph Van Warner, fishermen at Coeymans, were drowned in the Hudson last night. With John Wallsie they went out in a small boat to lift a net and were capsized. Wallsie escaped.

[illegible]

H[illegible], March 10.—[illegible] & [illegible] dry goods [illegible] store was burned early this morning. Loss $2[illegible] [illegible] Andrew [illegible] [illegible] was burned to death.

Claridon-Adelaide.

Rev. Struggles preached at the M. E. church Sunday.

Nearly all of our people are suffering with [illegible] grippe.

Miss Emma Owen is on the sick list.

Wm. Miller will ship [illegible] head of fat sheep East. O. Williams will accompany him.

Miss Tula Austin and friend spent Sunday in the village. They are from Marion.

Quite a number from our village attended the horse sale at Cardington Saturday. They report but few horses were sold.

As the snow disappears it leaves the roads in a very bad condition.

Mrs. S[illegible] is [illegible].

Miss Mary J. H[illegible] is [illegible] with a [illegible].

J. Boyer was granted [illegible] back pay and an increase of $12 per month [illegible] last week.

[illegible]

A NEW MEXICO PICTURE.

PICTURESQUE SCENE AT A STOP OF A SOUTHERN TRAIN.

How a Famous Railway Station in the Southwest Looks—A Place Where a Queer Mixture of Humanity May Be Daily Seen—A Passing Glance.

One of the famous eating houses of the Atchison road is situated at Wallace, where the train going south stops late in the afternoon. As the cars draw up at the station the long platform is thronged with the people of the country, of diverse races. Rough miners in flannel and heavy boots stand watching the train; cowboys, set off by sombreros and spurs, swagger about the platform, and Spanish-Americans, with swarthy faces and gleaming black eyes, lounge against the railings, looking impassively on the scene. Most picturesque of all there gathered are the descendants of the tribes akin to the Toltecs and Aztecs, those migrating people, whose first home was in the northwest before they went south to colonize the valleys of the Mexican plateau—the Pueblo Indians from Santo Domingo and San Filipe.

They are quaintly clad in their characteristic garb of leggins and tunic, with a blanket dress for the women, and sometimes for the men a gaudy blanket wrapped about the body. Some are awaiting the train on the station platform, and others, belated, are seen running toward the cars, bearing on their heads and backs the things they have to trade.

They exhibit a great variety of pottery, in the shape of vessels of divers sizes, form and patterns of decoration, and many earthen idols of infinite ugliness. They offer for sale pieces of what the New Mexican curiosity dealers call smoky topaz, which in reality is obsidian or volcanic glass, the material used by the ancient Aztecs for cutting purposes, from swords down to razors.

MANY NATIONALITIES.

About the train is a characteristic collection of passengers. There are tourists, European and American commercial travelers, young men from the east going to the southwest to try their fortunes, and perhaps in the rear cars some families of emigrants. Representing the territory are merchants, miners and cattlemen of American and Spanish-American descent, while opposite the blonde eastern lady, in her dainty traveling habit, may sit a dark eyed olive tinted beauty with the blood of Aragon or Castile in her veins, and perhaps a darker and not unbecoming tinge from Indian ancestry. Traveling theatrical companies, army officers and private soldiers on leave or on duty, and Indian delegations going on or returning from a visit to the great father at Washington are current types in a southwest passenger train.

Almost without exception the passengers are affable and disposed to conversation. Stiffness and reserve among fellow passengers by stage or by rail vanish west of the hundredth meridian.

There is an excellent dinner, plentiful and well served, at the pleasant and roomy railroad restaurant, with so much time allowed for the stay that the traveler, after his ample and leisurely meal, is able to walk about in this barbarously brilliant scene and make bargains with the brown and worldly wise sons and daughters of the country for such of their wares as he fancies. The Pueblo Indians hasten toward any one whose eye they may catch, hold up their goods, and address him in a language mainly aboriginal, with perhaps a few Spanish and American words intermingled, but the only part of the discourse really understood on either side is the extemporized sign language.

They ask several prices, expecting to be beaten down to a fair rate, and they seldom will let the possible customer get away without consummating a trade. Demure, swarthy Pueblo children look on the transactions of their elders with great interest, the larger girls helping their mothers by carrying the very young children in a pouch made by slinging a shawl about their necks.

INDIAN POTTERY.

The Indian pottery is the ware most purchased by the passengers. It is quaint of pattern, and in its way much of it is really beautiful. The material of which it is made is a white or grayish tinted clay, which the men bring to the women, who are the pottery makers. The Indians guard jealously the secret of the places where are found the earth that makes the choicest kinds. The hunter, prospector or railroad explorer coming suddenly upon these natives engaged in digging clay for the purpose is likely to remember the terror and consternation which they exhibit.

The molded pottery is burned in dry sheep's dung, which is fired, and thus it is baked. The material used in making the striped designs is a decoction from a certain green root which the Indians call wako. It is painted upon the vessels, and in the baking it turns black. The best pottery is made by the Acoma, Zuni and Cochiti Indians.

A gong clanks at the station, and those passengers who have not already returned to the cars discontinue their promenade or hastily conclude their bargains. The conductor's cry rings out, "All aboard!" and the laggards enter the cars. But even as the train moves slowly off the passengers are still making last purchases from the car platforms and through the windows with the aborigines, who at the fast approaching disappearance of their possible customers are [illegible] at the last moment to close [illegible] at any price. The train [illegible] the last Indian vender [illegible] on the platform, with its [illegible] colored assemblage [illegible] and the passengers have [illegible] strange and striking [illegible] the panorama of the [illegible] villages against a [illegible] on the right, as [illegible] southward down the sandy valley of the Rio Grande toward Albuquerque.—Harper's Weekly.

A [illegible] FREAK.

[illegible] of Gotham, [illegible] secrets.

[illegible] smooth [illegible] into the Central [illegible] for lodging. [illegible] we have," said [illegible] if you'll tell us [illegible] white, brown or [illegible] have the best [illegible].

[illegible] his head and [illegible] feet and then the [illegible] drawled out. "My [illegible] on my [illegible] My father's [illegible] and his mother [illegible] know what I am."

"[illegible]" asked Lieut. B[illegible].

"[illegible] band of brave. [illegible] I've played Zulu, Kaffir, [illegible], Indian and Greaser [illegible] for six months, [illegible] pokers with my tongue, [illegible] on hot coals, chewed hot [illegible] from my nose, [illegible] the glass with my [illegible] human ostrich."

"[illegible] is your occupation?" asked Lieut. [illegible].

"I'm a [illegible] freak, a fakir, a sport and a [illegible] the copper colored [illegible]."

"[illegible] how you work the [illegible] father bed," unblushingly promised Patrolman O'Donnell.

"There [illegible] no fake in the human ostrich," [illegible] the freak. "The ostrich [illegible] knife blades, stones, [illegible] everything else he can [illegible] ain't no fake in that. [illegible] 'Cause you don't get a chance to make a fake out of it. If you [illegible] it. It ain't a trick to eat a glass sandwich. Just put a thin piece of glass [illegible] a couple of pieces of bread and when the bread goes down, [illegible] the glass, too. People think [illegible] but that's only [illegible] I saw a fellow do it, and [illegible] minutes afterward. There ain't any trick to stepping on glass. You [illegible] do it. First they stir the glass up with a stick to make you think they're trying to get the sharp [illegible]. They're just turning the sharp points down. But a fellow must [illegible] dry feet or he can't do that. If his feet sweat or are damp he'll get cut.

"The [illegible] fake is nothing. If you soak your hands and feet in borax water [illegible] four hours a day for a couple of [illegible] you'll be able to stand a [illegible] iron. We don't run [illegible] but a little paste and lots of [illegible]. We put a coat of this on our [illegible] when we pull a hot poker across it there's lots of smoke, a sizzle and a bad smell. We don't hold the poker very tight or very long, but people think they smell burning flesh. We cover the [illegible] of our feet the same way, and [illegible] on hot coals and [illegible] seconds. But if the paste is [illegible] and you get burned. You can [illegible] with borax, lay [illegible] on your tongue and lick a red hot poker. It makes a little flame, and when people see it they think you're breathing fire."

"[illegible] the glass you eat hurt [illegible]?"

"Not [illegible]. The only trouble is that you're liable to cut your tongue, and you've got to be careful."

The freak was turned over to Turnkey [illegible], who was instructed to give him a good bed.

"Where did you come from?" asked [illegible].

"From New York," said the freak.

"[illegible]"

"[illegible]"

"[illegible] you going from here?"

"I'm going to get a job as soon as I can, and [illegible] have a couple of dollars I'll [illegible]."

"What's your name?"

"Signor Carlo."

"[illegible]"

"Twenty."—Cleveland Leader.

Not To Be Trusted.

The [illegible] of some American born citizens of foreign descent in regard to the proper meaning of some English words is sometimes rather astonishing. An instance of this was met with the other day by a reporter who had called at the house of a German on Second avenue in the ordinary course of his business. The man, who it was afterward learned was [illegible] years old, had been born in [illegible] for at least ten years had [illegible], was not at first inclined to be communicative. Finally [illegible] a little closer to the reporter —they were standing in the hall—and said "[illegible] a confidence man?" The reporter was indignant, naturally, and [illegible] he declared he was [illegible]. "Ach, well," said [illegible] opened the door, "I think [illegible] my names [illegible] but if you no con[illegible] things."—New York Times.

Fascination in Life.

[illegible] a little imagination [illegible] a possession [illegible] A little is, to the [illegible] events of life, what [illegible] The relish it bestows [illegible] as good as a pleasure. [illegible] you can see [illegible] though, on the [illegible] tormented by [illegible] and [illegible] of the arrival of [illegible] be if you [illegible] And in [illegible] the thick [illegible] judicious [illegible] look ahead [illegible] which shall [illegible] and [illegible] called to [illegible] like a [illegible] it [illegible] and [illegible]

[illegible] News.

[illegible]

The [illegible] mountain
Gates [illegible]
The [illegible] fountain,
But gathers [illegible] along its way.

The aloe bears for years the [illegible]
Before it [illegible]
The coral reef that [illegible]
Through centuries of growth [illegible].

Thus, through her works, Dame Nature offers ever
For our acceptance [illegible]
'Tis but by patient [illegible]
The greatest, best and grandest things are wrought.

—Housekeeper's Weekly.

Appetite a Good Doctor.

When the health is fairly good, and there is no special strain to be put upon the system, the normal appetite may be trusted to indicate the kind and quantity of food necessary to maintain that condition. Naturally the appetite varies with the changing seasons, and unless it indicates an unreasonable extreme of indulgence or abstinence no attention need be paid to any other monitor. Much harm is done by injudicious or meddlesome friends suggesting that a person is too stout or too thin, too pale or too ruddy, and serious disturbances of the system often follow the mischievous advice to take some bitters or pills, or refrain from fattening food or drink. Paying attention to any of these fads is like playing with fire. If you are ill enough to seem to warrant any radical change of diet or any application of medicine, consult your physician at once. Above all, avoid quack medicines. To use the opinion of a successful dealer in them, whose bank balance is more liberal than his conscience, they are "made to sell."—Harper's Bazar.

Chewing.

"On which side of your mouth do you chew?"

"What a question!"

"Well, there is much difference between the masticating methods of people. It is quite an interesting study too. To me, in the restaurant business, I have a host of subjects before me every day. I think that a long and close experience with men will support the conclusion that most people masticate with the teeth on the left side of the jaw. A few people chew on the right side; most, however, on the left. How do I explain it? Oh, it is partly habit, partly the result of necessity, broken or defective teeth, etc. Next time you sit down to table with a large party just notice the various and distinct ways in which the people present chew. It will surprise you. Not only do some chew out loud, but—well, judge for yourself."—Interview in Detroit Free Press.

Great Men As Boys.

Every one knows how, when Sir Walter Scott was a boy, the future novelist was lost during a thunderstorm, and found by the alarmed searchers lying on his back on the hillside looking at the lightning, clapping his hands at each flash and exclaiming, "Bonnie! bonnie!" But a story of the same kind, with Schiller, the German poet, as the hero, is not so well known. One day, while a very small boy, a severe thunderstorm came on; the boy was missed and could nowhere be found. The whole household searched for him, but it was not until the storm was past that he was seen descending from the top of a high lime tree near the house. To the inquiries of his father as to his motives he replied:

"I only wished to see where all the fire came from."—New York Ledger.

A Fine Sermon.

Young Master X is an observant youth of 5. He returned from church, and was sent up stairs that his maid might remove his lordship's top coat. The following conversation ensued, which I dedicate respectfully to a certain well known clergyman:

Maid—Were you a good little boy in church today?

Young Master X—Oh, yes. Mamma said I was very still today.

Maid—Did you have a fine sermon today?

Young Master X—I guess we did. It sounded like a very fine one, indeed!

"Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings," etc.—Brooklyn Life.

Girls Who Ride and Pay.

Thompsonville girls stand a good deal of chaffing because they go on sleighing parties all by themselves and leave the young men out. They retort that they can go and have a good time, and pay the bills, too, without asking any help from the boys. They are not the sleighing parties that go hooting and howling through the streets, waking folks up after midnight, either.—Springfield (Mass.) Homestead.

In Doubt.

Quin was once at a small dinner party. The master of the house, pushing a delicious pudding toward Quin, begged him to taste it. A gentleman had just before helped himself to an immense piece of it. "Pray," said Quin, looking first at the gentleman's plate and then at the dish, "which is the pudding?"—San Francisco Argonaut.

An alarm for telling when a ship reaches a predetermined depth of water is being tried aboard her majesty's ship Rambler in the Red sea. It consists of a wire sounding apparatus having a sinker, which, on coming in contact with the bottom, relieves the drum on board ship and sounds a bell.

The air brake millionaire Westinghouse is a practical mechanic, being the graduate of a machine shop in which he spent his youth. He is a skillful draughtsman, and his remarkable memory for facts and figures enables him to carry in his head the details of his vast business enterprises.

The form used by the king of Sweden in addressing the members of [illegible] ment differs from that used by [illegible] other [illegible]. His speeches [illegible] "Good gentlemen and Swedish men." They [illegible] with, "[illegible] God [illegible] upon you, good gentlemen and Swedish men."

HITTING THE BULL'S EYE.

A Middle Aged Man's Experience on the Bowery.

He stopped to look at a suit of clothes hanging in front of an establishment in the Bowery. He was mildly shaken, and a man [illegible] could not tell a [illegible] from a cr[illegible].

"It was shown previous to [illegible] and we [illegible] $35 and down to $8," explained the man at the door.

"[illegible]"

"We marked all we [illegible] down, and [illegible] make [illegible] Broadway [illegible]"

"[illegible]"

"If you don't be satisfied in one week bring it back and get your money. Our object [illegible] for [illegible] few days [illegible] we know [illegible]"

"[illegible]" the man as he slowly passed on.

"[illegible]" said the proprietor as he came out, "how do you [illegible]"

"[illegible]"

"But something was wrong about it. He is coming back, and you keep still until I let me do the talking."

The man returned, stopped to take another look at the garments and the proprietor bowed very low and said:

"Senator, I hope you will excuse my clerk. He was fresh from Chicago, and he don't know a congressman from a bootblack. [illegible] to you, senator, and if you like to step inside I shall present you [illegible] for nothing."

The "senator" stepped, and twenty minutes later appeared with a bundle under his arm and [illegible] satisfied look on his face.—New York Sun.

A Sad Appeal.

A middle aged, [illegible] looking man, who had called at the post office for a letter several days running, returned yesterday with the usual inquiry, and was answered as before:

"No letter for you."

"Are you quite sure?" he earnestly asked.

"Oh, yes."

"Alas! but I can't make it out!" sighed the man. "I should have had one Monday, and this uncertainty unnerves me."

"Expecting to hear from some of your friends?" queried the clerk, touched by his despondency.

"Yes—my wife."

"She is away from home?"

"Yes—in Buffalo."

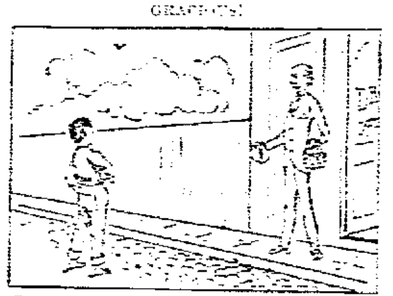
"Any one ill?"

"No, not exactly."

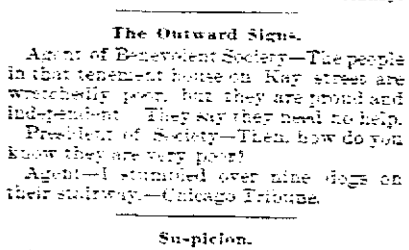
"But you were so anxious I thought it might be a case of life or death."

"It is, almost. You see, she cooks in a restaurant and sends me $5 per week to live on here, and this is the first time in six months I have missed a letter on Monday. I don't know what to think. She may be ill—she may be out of a job—she may have gone back on me. I may even have to go to work again and earn my living! Please be very, very sure that you have not overlooked my expected letter." —Detroit Free Press.

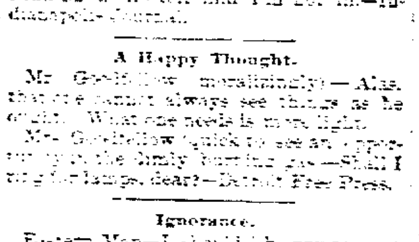
Knew Him.



Boy—Want to buy some apples, mister?
Doctor—Yes, my son. Here is a dime; just put the fruit in yonder cabinet.



GRACIOUS!



Doctor—Here, my son, come and get your apples and hat.
Boy—Na-y' don't! I know yer, if y' have got yer clothes on.—Bulletin of Pharmacy.

The Outward Signs.

Agent of Benevolent Society—The people in that tenement house on Kay street are wretchedly poor, but they are proud and independent. They say they need no help.

President of Society—Then, how do you know they are very poor?

Agent—I stumbled over nine dogs on their stairway.—Chicago Tribune.

Suspicion.

Office Boy—Mr. Watts brought back your umbrella just now. Said it looked like rain an' he thought you might need it.

Boss—All right. [illegible] Oh, say, Johnnie, if Watts inquires for me any time during banking hours tell him I'm not in.—Indianapolis Journal.

A Happy Thought.

Mr. Goodfellow (moralizingly)—Alas, that one cannot always see things as he ought. What one needs is more light.

Mrs. Goodfellow (quick to see an opportunity in the dimly burning gas)—Shall I ring for lamps, dear?—Detroit Free Press.

Ignorance.

Eastern Man—I should like you to meet my partner, but he is not here today. He has not been well since the last blizzard. I presume you know what a blizzard is, eh?

Western Man—No; I have not been east long.—New York Weekly.

The Parson's Smile.

"Your engagement this evening, John," returned the clergyman's wife, "is of a social nature, I presume?"

"Particularly so, Mary. I have a marriage ceremony to perform."—Detroit Free Press.

A Seasonable Episode.

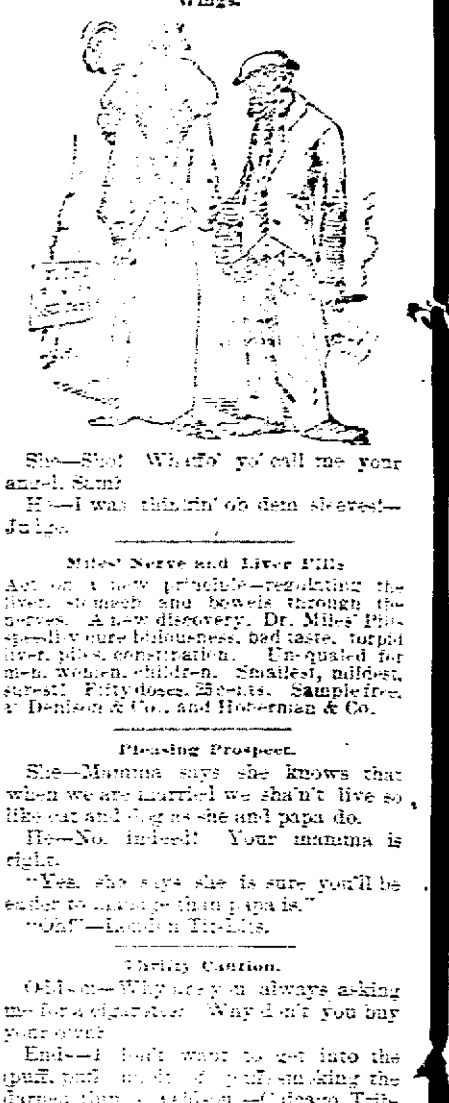
The Cutter—D[illegible] you want anything else on the [illegible]

Bereaved Friend—Well, [illegible] just put on a pair of skates.—Boston Courier.

A Husband's Mistake.

Husbands too often permit their wives, and parents their children, to suffer from [illegible] sleeplessness, [illegible] the use of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine [illegible] Druggists [illegible] universal satisfaction [illegible] sale. Wood[illegible] N. Y. [illegible] Wells, H[illegible] [illegible] at Denison & Co. and [illegible]

Wings.



She—Sho! Whaffo' yo' call me your angel, Sam?

He—I was thinkin' ob dem sleeves!—Judge.

Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills

Act on a new principle—regulating the liver, stomach and bowels through the nerves. A new discovery. Dr. Miles' Pills speedily cure biliousness, bad taste, torpid liver, piles, constipation. Unequaled for men, women, children. Smallest, mildest, surest! Fifty doses, 25 cents. Samples free, at Denison & Co. and Hoberman & Co.

Pleasing Prospect.

She—Mamma says she knows that when we are married we sha'n't live so like cat and dog as she and papa do.

He—No, indeed! Your mamma is right.

"Yes, she says she is sure you'll be easier to manage than papa is."

"Oh!"—London Tit-Bits.

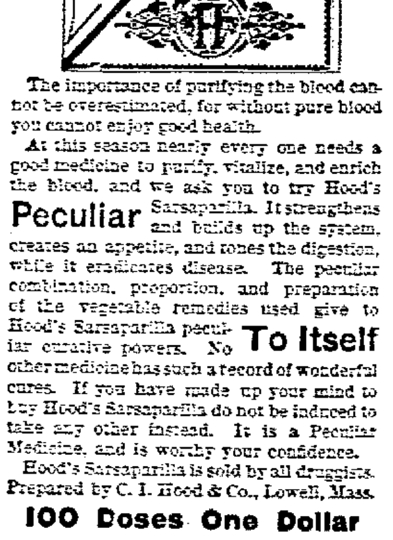
Thrifty Caution.

Oldham—Why are you always asking me for a cigarette? Why don't you buy your own?

Endy—I don't want to get into the habit of [illegible] smoking the darned things [illegible].—Chicago Tribune.

Can't Sleep Nights

Is the complaint of thousands suffering from asthma, consumption, coughs, etc. Did you ever try Dr. Acker's English Remedy? It is the best preparation known for all lung troubles. Sold on a positive guarantee at 25c and 50c. Sold by H. C. Hoberman & Co. and W. B. Foye.



The importance of purifying the blood cannot be overestimated, for without pure blood you cannot enjoy good health.

At this season nearly every one needs a good medicine to purify, vitalize, and enrich the blood, and we ask you to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. It strengthens and builds up the system, creates an appetite, and tones the digestion, while it eradicates disease. The peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation of the vegetable remedies used give to Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiar curative powers. No other medicine has such a record of wonderful cures. If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other instead. It is a Peculiar Medicine, and is worthy your confidence.

Peculiar To Itself

Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

Local Time Card.

Quick Time! AND THE LOWEST RATES!

ERIE RAILWAY

N. Y., P. AND O. DIVISION.

CITY DEPOT.
[In effect Nov. 16th, 189[illegible].]

WEST.		EAST.
No. 1	9:10 am	No. 12	4:21 am
No. [illegible]	9:[illegible] am	No. 4	11:[illegible] am
No. [illegible]	12:[illegible] pm	No. [illegible]	[illegible] pm
No. 5	10:4[illegible] pm	No. 8	10:[illegible] pm
		No. [illegible]	[illegible]

C. AND E. DIVISION.

MARION JUNCTION DEPOT.

DEPART.		ARRIVE.
No. 1	[illegible] am	No. 4	[illegible]
No. [illegible]	[illegible] pm	No. 2	[illegible]
No. [illegible]	11:[illegible] pm	No. 12	[illegible] am
No. [illegible]	[illegible] am	No. 3[illegible]	[illegible] am

No[illegible] have no [illegible] connection.

[illegible]

[In effect on and after Nov. [illegible]]

WEST.		EAST.
[illegible]	[illegible] a. m.	No. 10	[illegible] a. m.
[illegible]	[illegible]	No. [illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible] a. m.	No. 18	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible] p. m.	No. [illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible] p. m.	No. 8, local	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	No. [illegible]	[illegible]

[illegible]

C. H. V. AND T.

NORTH.		SOUTH.
[illegible]	[illegible] am	No. [illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible] pm	No. [illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible] pm	No. 3[illegible]	[illegible]
		No. [illegible]	[illegible]

All trains run Sunday but [illegible] and 33. Trains [illegible] and [illegible] run only between Marion and Columbus.

RACE WITH A MAN EATER

ADVENTURE OF AN ENGLISHMAN IN THE SAMOAN ISLANDS.

While Enjoying Plank Riding on the Waves Near the Shore an Enthusiastic Visitor Narrowly Escaped a Savage Shark—Queer Sport Amid Breakers.

"Speaking of adventures," said my companion, who had been listening to a number of stories told in the old boat house, "I can relate one that at least at the time seemed exciting enough. I had been traveling around the world, after the fashion of Englishmen, and had stopped at the Samoan islands on my way up from Australia to run them over and gain some information regarding the natives, their ways and customs, and as a result I became enamored with the place, climate and people, and remained there nearly a year.

"During that time I made myself familiar with nearly all the islands of the group, and one in particular had a singular fascination to me. Once on the hill tops I looked down upon a long beach, upon which beat the finest surf I have ever seen. The waves were simply great rollers, which came in a slow, dignified fashion that was most impressive. The men, who had all been there before, ran down the shore, where I soon saw them hauling some planks from the bush, which I learned they had concealed on a former occasion. In short, the waves were used by them to enjoy one of the most exciting sports imaginable, and I was very quickly initiated into it.

FASCINATING SPORT.

"The men threw off what little clothing they wore. Then each seized a plank and attempted to launch it. This was easier said than done, and many were the upsets that ensued as the big rollers came in, but finally all of them got beyond the shore and beyond the point where the waves broke, and then I saw where the sport came in. Turning in shore the men threw themselves upon the planks, and, watching their opportunity, steered them so that they held their position on the crest of the roller and came in with it. Once under way the natives skillfully raised themselves to their feet, and so standing upright came rushing in. Some were tossed off, others were caught in the breaking wave, while the most skillful and intrepid retained their standing position until they were literally flung upon the beach.

"I was younger in those days than I am now, and soon convinced myself that I should enjoy this sport as well as the natives, and, securing a plank, I, too, pushed out from the shore. The first wave that struck me nearly drowned me, but I dived into the next and my plank beat me in about two minutes.

"During that visit I did not attain sufficient skill to enable me to take the ride standing, but on subsequent occasions I became fairly proficient, and then the sport for a time became a veritable craze with me. I interested a number of Englishmen and Americans in it, and we really fell into the habit of getting up wave riding parties. I had become so skillful that I rarely missed a wave, and could make my way out with ease and come riding in with perfect equipoise. I became so daring that I often swam out beyond the rest that I might obtain the full force and exhilaration of the ride, and one day when the sea was particularly high and rolling very heavily I met with my adventure.

CHASED BY A MONSTER.

"There were six of us enjoying the sport, with as many natives. I had a plank especially made for the purpose, wide and stout enough to bear my entire weight, and by lying upon it I soon forced my way over the incoming rollers and floated in the comparatively smooth water beyond. Here I turned my plank shoreward and waited for a good roller. Every third one was, as a rule, large, and finally a big, green bodied one came whirling in, shutting out the horizon. As it came I caught it, and as I felt the transferred motion lightly sprang to my feet and steadied myself on the monster that extended up and down the shore and was rushing to its own destruction.

"On I went, shouting gayly to my companions on the beach. Then I suddenly became aware that something was beside me. I gave a side glance and the reality almost made me lose my foothold upon the rushing plank. What I saw was the sharp dorsal fin of a man eating shark cutting along through the water like a knife. The monster was thirteen or more feet long and was partly turned up toward me, showing the white, gleaming under surface.

"What passed through my mind in those few seconds can hardly be imagined. I gave myself up for lost, as I believed the shark would soon rush at the plank, when over I would go, an easy victim. I do not know that I have more than ordinary nerve, but it flashed through my mind that possibly the shark was waiting for me to fall, and would not make an attack unless I did, and in some unaccountable way I was enabled to retain my self possession. Every second I was gaining; every second brought the big wave nearer the beach. Now it was on the verge of breaking. Still the shark maintained its position. Then I heard the welcome roar above me, and down it came like an avalanche, scintillating and gleaming, until with one mighty burst the aquatic monster broke. For a single second I stood in the gleaming mass, and then was dashed upon the beach safe and sound.

"The shark did not come in, which was evidence to me that it had not been overcome by the rush of the water, but was simply following me with due regard to its cuisine. I need hardly say that this was my last experience riding breakers there. Upon inquiry I learned that natives had been attacked by sharks during the sport on several occasions. When I look back upon it and recall the sensation of rushing onward high on the crest of a big wave I almost wish I could indulge in the sport again, though without the shark accompaniment."—Philadelphia Times.

The Wisdom of the Ancients.

Dr. Talmage is very vigorously inclined to believe that the Nineteenth century had not absorbed all the wonders of the ages. Jerusalem was a wonderful city, with wonderful architecture—nothing like it in all the ages. The reservoirs of Jerusalem were built with cement as perfect today as it was when the trowel laid it 1,000 years before Christ. That dentistry had reached an advanced stage was shown by the filling of the teeth of the mummies at Cairo. Solomon knew all about the circulation of blood. Job knew all about the refraction of light.

Isaiah knew that the world was round when he said, "The Lord is seated on the circle of the earth." Ancient art excelled the modern. Tyrian purple couldn't be made now. Pliny describes a malleable glass that one could tie around his wrist. The Nineteenth century couldn't produce a Damascus blade. We have great cities, but Babylon was five times larger than London. "I begin to wonder," said Dr. Talmage, "if the world hasn't forgotten more than it knows. But what this age does excel in," he continued, "is morality. There were never so many good men and women as now. It is the result of the influence of Christianity."—Washington Post.

Boston's Oldest House.

What is generally believed to be the oldest house standing in Boston has been transferred from one estate to another for the first time in over 200 years. The property is known as the Wells mansion. The sale was made by the Wells estate to Mr. A. Ratshesky, a Hebrew millionaire.

This interesting relic of the colonial period, now used for a store and tenements, bears a strong resemblance in its style of architecture to the old Dickens house in London. It is a two story frame structure, very substantial and likely to last another generation, if not torn down to make room for a modern building. The striking peculiarity of its exterior is that its second story projects six inches or more beyond the walls of the first—a freak of construction that cannot be accounted for on any known ground of practical use or ornamentation. The title was examined into by John T. Hassan, who discovered that it had not previously been inquired into since 1681, when it came into the possession of the forefathers of the present comptrollers of the Wells estate.—Boston Post.

Black and Green Teas.

Generally speaking, all teas are divided into two colors—green and black. Japan is the only country which produces green tea only, while China is the only land where both colors are prepared. India, Ceylon and Java send forth black teas alone, on the principle—at least in India—that adulteration of green tea is too easy. It is worthy of mention in this connection also that until within a few years all the teas of Japan have been black, and this was the case when in 1856 the first importation of fifty half chests reached this country. The venture was immediately successful.

The flavor of the Japan tea pleased the American palate. It was spoken of as "a black tea with green tea flavor," and as the leaf was dried in the natural color it was believed that it must be free from adulteration. The importation for the second year was 400 half chests, and in the third year the amount arose to 1,100. But it did not by any means stop there, rising rapidly till the yearly total reached the wonderful amount of 20,000,000 pounds.—Good Housekeeping.

Escape for the Gallery.

An old time theatrical advance agent told me this amusing incident which occurred in London, England, at the first production of the opera "Faust" in the Drury Lane theatre: "The original Faust was taken sick in the evening and could not appear in the title role. An under study, whose name was not revealed, was chosen for the part. He was a first class tenor, but was a very stout man, weighing about 240 pounds. In the last act, where Marguerite lies dead on the floor, and Faust descends through a trap door amid lurid flames, the trap in this instance, being very small, was not large enough to let the under study through. The stage hands underneath pulled their utmost on the legs of the substitute, but to no avail. There was breathless silence in the audience at the awkward pause, which was soon broken by a voice in the gallery exclaiming in a shrill tone, 'Hurrah, fellows! We're safe! The hot place is full already!'"—New York Star.

Reasons for a Divorce.

The Druses sometimes divorce their wives for apparently the most trivial causes. Thus a man named Soleiman Attala had a wife, Isbakyeh. The woman frequently worked for us, and on several occasions I had to complain that she talked too much and worked too little. At length I was obliged to tell Soleiman that, owing to his wife's laziness, I could employ her no longer. Shortly afterward I went to England. On my return after a couple of months' absence I was surprised to find that Soleiman had divorced Isbakyeh, and had already married another woman. On inquiring from him the cause of this he replied: "Your honor told me that you would not employ my wife again, so I thought I would get rid of her and marry another woman whom you would employ."—Blackwood's Magazine.

Two Queer Addresses.

Not long ago a letter came through the postoffice addressed to "Earl Mills, N. H.," which found its proper destination at Oil Mills, N. H. A letter addressed to "Roast Pig, Mass." was deciphered by the Boston mail clerks to be intended for Dedham, and there it was delivered to the person for whom it was intended.—Concord Monitor.

A Perverse Woman.

"What! you love another? But you said you'd marry me if your father disowned you."

"I know. But he didn't disown me, you see!"—American Grocer.

ABOUT CUTTING HAIR.

What Say the Barbers Who Talk of the Care of the Hair on Men's Heads.

"You'd better have your hair trimmed, sir."

So said the barber in the shop at Church and Cortlandt streets.

"Why?" he was asked. "I had it cut only a week ago."

"Yes, but I see it is very thin on top," said the barber, "and I think that it should be cut very frequently in order to save it."

On the next afternoon the barber in the Park Avenue hotel was making his last excursion with a razor over the same man's face.

"You are getting bald," said he. "Now, what a genetic mystery it is—this subject of the hair. I am bald; you are getting bald. Neither of us would try to save a thousand dollars if that would have kept us a full head of hair, but neither money nor skill nor wisdom will save any man a single hair of his head. For my part, the only knowledge I have, after being in the barber business twenty years, is purely negative. I think that if you don't have your hair cut it will not fall out."

"What? Never have it cut?"

"Stop a minute. Did you ever see a bald headed woman? You never did. Well, such a thing as a bald headed woman exists, but they are very rare. Now, why are women practically never bald, and why are men growing bald in greater numbers every year? You naturally reply—or you would if you had thought about it as much as I—that the reason lies in the hats women wear. Their hats amount to nothing. The average bonnet does not weigh two ounces. Their hats are open, and there is more or less ventilation under and through them, whereas men's hats are heavy boxes that inclose and weigh down and stifle the hair."

"I never thought of that."

"Well, that amounts to nothing," said the barber. "It sounds important, but whatever we say in favor of women's hats is offset by the fact that they wear them twice as many hours at a time as men wear theirs. Women often put a hat on in the morning and don't remove it till dinner; they wear their bonnets in church, at the theatre, during their calls, everywhere and all the time. The important difference between the sexes is, after all, that boys and men have their hair cut and girls and women don't. A little girl's hair is nursed after she passes early childhood.

"Some fathers who are obliged to keep their families in the hot city insist that their babies' hair shall be cut, and the mothers yield in the cases of the girls with great reluctance, but after the little girls are 4 or 5 years old the women fight to have their hair uncut thenceforward, and such is the rule with most girls. After thinking it all over for twenty years I am of the opinion that haircutting produces baldness.

"See," continued the barber, "what wonderful heads of hair the Indians have. How thick it is. How splendid are the braids they wear down their backs. It is so with all savages—all have plenty of hair, and none ever cut it. The white men who live in wild countries or on our border exemplify the same thing. They wear their hair down on their shoulders, and it is thick and luxuriant, but it has not been cut in all the time they have lived the life of the rude people around them. My calm decision is that if you want to escape baldness you must keep the scissors away from your head. No medicine will remedy baldness. To find a physic that will do so is the surest road to a giant fortune, and men have been experimenting for more than a century without finding a remedy."—New York Sun.

Easily Satisfied.

"Sir," said a lean and hungry looking person who had by some means passed all the obstacles to admission to the office of the manager of one of the great press associations, "I wish to present you with a confidence."

The manager looked at him curiously.

"I have the most gigantic scheme," went on the visitor, "that you"——

"Never mind," said the manager, "don't bother me."

"But, sir," persisted the stranger, "you mistake me seriously. This is something that will make your fortune and mine."

"I am already rich beyond the dream of avarice," replied the manager, thinking of his debts.

"H-m!" sighed the visitor. He brightened up presently and said, "Well, then, may I be permitted to make a suggestion?"

"Yes," said the manager.

"I would suggest," said the old tramp, "that you lend me ten cents," and the manager did.—New York Times.

Virgil and the "Æneid."

A correspondent asks, Is the story that Virgil on his deathbed attempted to burn the "Æneid" a myth, or is it a fact?

The story has been regarded as truth. The "Æneid" was not his favorite poem, although it is the one which constitutes his claim to the remembrance of posterity. He liked the "Georgics" best. It is said that the "Æneid" cost him eleven years of labor, and that he intended to devote three years more to polishing it and bringing it nearer to his ideal of what an epic poem ought to be. Before he could give much time to the latter task, however, he died, and in his last moments he tried to secure the book and destroy it. It was kept out of his reach, though, and subsequently given to the world as it was originally written.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Give 'Em the Road.

An English naturalist who has been out to see the whale in his native haunts says that a full grown whale, driving ahead at full speed, could break down any breakwater ever built, and that the sweep of his lower jaw is equal to the force of a thirty horse-power engine working at full speed. If you meet a whale while out in your canoe give him the road.—Detroit Free Press.

HOW SIR RICHARD DIED.

Stately as bridegroom to a feast
Sir Richard trod the scaffold stair,
And, bowing to the crowd, untied
The love locks from his sable hair;
Took off his watch. "Give that to Ned,
I've done with time," he proudly said.

'Twas bitter cold—it makes him shake,
Said one, "Ah! see the villain's look!"
Sir Richard, with a scornful frown,
Cried, "Frost, not fear, my body shook."
Giving a gold piece to the slave,
He laughed, "Now praise me, master knave!"

They pointed, with a sneering smile,
Unto a black box, black and grim;
But no white shroud nor badge of death
Had power to draw a tear from him.
"It needs no lock," he said in jest,
"This chamber where to-night I rest."

Then crying out, "God save the king!"
In spite of hiss and shout and frown;
He stripped his doublet, dropped his cloak,
And gave the headsman's man a crown;
Then "On for heaven!" he proudly cried,
And bowed his head—and so he died.
—Walter Thornbury.

A Cataract in Labrador.

The interior of Labrador undoubtedly is the largest unexplored area on this continent. Up the Grand river, which empties into the Atlantic ocean at Hamilton inlet, are the Grand falls, which, if everything is true about them that is reported, are the most stupendous falls in the world. They are only about 160 miles up the river, but only two white men have ever seen them. Mr. R. F. Holme three years ago went from England to visit the Grand falls.

He organized a little party to accompany him inland, and arrived within about fifty miles of the falls, when he was compelled to return on account of the failure of his provisions. The Labrador Indians say these falls are haunted, and they carefully avoid them, believing that they will die if they look upon them. The two white men who have seen them are Mr. Maclean, who, as he was ascending the river in 1839, was stopped by the falls, and Mr. Kennedy, who over thirty years ago had charge of Hudson Bay post, in Labrador. Mr. Holme says the height of the falls is not certainly known, but in some respects there is little doubt they are the greatest in the world.—Goldthwaite's Geographical Magazine.

Rousseau the Landscape Painter.

As we stand before a great landscape by Rousseau like the "Ravines of Apremont," lately in the collection of M. Marmontel, or of the "Hoar Frost," in that of Mr. Walters at Baltimore, one must call up a powerfully built man of middle size with a full brown beard; a wide, high forehead, which his friends declared Olympian; a shapely, straight nose; hair worn rather long, after the fashion of forty years ago; direct limpid gaze from eyes of unusual largeness and grayish blue in color, and a mouth whose lines indicate the absorbed man and the reticent. He was an extremely thoughtful man, not by any means smileless and the furthest remove from stupid; he was one of those who are hard to win for a friend, but once a friend, eminently the person with whom to pass weeks in the pursuit of a worthy study. There is the sympathetic man who talks, and the sympathetic man who is silent. Rousseau was the latter. Yet he could talk, and talk well, on nature, art and music, and he wrote a charming letter.—Charles De Kay in Century.

Small Farms.

One of the mistakes of the times is the popular belief that everything in a business way must be big. The idea has grown out of our haste to grow wealthy and from superficial calculation, such as, if one acre pays $100, 100 acres would pay $10,000. Men seldom make such money out of vary large orchards, and while a source of envy to small holders they are often, in fact, just holding on or are running ahead on borrowed capital. The men who make money and are getting rich out of horticultural pursuits are those who do not attempt more than they can look after personally. From ten to eighty acres are the sized tracts which pay the highest per cent. of profit, if they are properly conducted. The idea that a living cannot be made out of small place has retarded many from going into a business in which they might now be making an independent living.—California Fruit Grower.

When Pluck Was Slang.

This word affords an instance of the way in which slang words in the course of time became adopted into current English. We now meet with pluck and plucky as the recognized equivalents of "courage" and "courageous." An entry in Sir Walter Scott's "Journal" shows that in 1827 the word had not yet lost its low character. He says (vol. II, p. 30), "Want of that article blackguardly called pluck." Its origin is obvious. From early times the heart has been popularly regarded as the seat of courage. Now, when a butcher lays open a carcass he divides the great vessels of the heart, cuts through the windpipe and then plucks out together the united heart and lungs—lights he calls them—and he terms the united mass "the pluck."—Notes and Queries.

Anecdote of Michael Angelo.

Michael Angelo, at a time when Italy paid so much attention to ancient art that modern had no chance of being judged fairly, had, it is said, resort to a stratagem to teach the critics the fallacy of shaping their judgments by fashion or reputation. He sculptured a statue representing a sleeping beauty, and breaking off an arm buried it in a place where excavations were being made. It was soon found and lauded by critics and the public as a valuable relic of antiquity, far superior to anything done for centuries. When Angelo thought it had gone far enough he produced the broken arm, and, to the great mortification of the critics, revealed himself as the sculptor.—New York Ledger.

He Ought to Have Known.

Cochran—I suppose your name on this umbrella indicates that it belongs to you?

Gilroy—Which, the name or the umbrella?

Cochran—The name, of course.—Puck.

WANTED VENGEANCE.

The Conductor Listened, Alas! but Didn't Catch On.

When a conductor on a Chicago suburban train approached a heavy set, red headed fellow the fellow said: "Look here, you have already punched my ticket twice."

"Well, but why do you give it to me twice?"

"Because," the fellow replied, "you came along and held out your hand, and I was tempted to see how often you would punch away my salary, for it takes about all I make to buy a monthly ticket. Hold on," he added, when the conductor began to move off. "I have discovered that you are a robber, and I am going to call you to account. I am going to whip you, sir."

"I reckon not," said the conductor.

"But I reckon I am. I have noticed for several years a growing disposition on all sides to rob me, and I have made up my mind that I am going to whip every man who I feel sure is a robber. I know that you have robbed me, and I am going to whip you. Wait a minute. Lest you think there may be some doubt as to my ability to perform my duty in this matter, let me say that I have three medals presented to me by different boxing associations. What time will you be at leisure?"

"I don't know," said the conductor.

"Well, no matter, for I have a day off, and can ride with you until the desired opportunity presents itself."

The conductor, who was evidently disturbed, went into a forward car. When he returned a few minutes later he discovered that the revengeful fellow was gone.

"What became of that red headed man?" he asked.

"He got off at the last station," a passenger replied. "By the way, why didn't you make him pay his fare?"

"Because he said that I had already punched his ticket twice."

"Yes, he said so, but the truth is you did not punch it at all. He had no ticket. He lives at Madison Park, and is known as the biggest deadbeat in the community."—Arkansas Traveler.

It Worked.

"Funny about this telephone business, isn't it?" remarked a bald headed citizen of the Cass farm as he heard somebody "helloing" at the back end of the drug store.

"In what respect?"

"Well, in respect to your neighbors. At one time last year I had no less than eight different families using my 'phone to do all their business. They'd come in night or day, use it as long as they wanted to and for every purpose, and not one ever laid down the fee charged at a station, although they knew I had to pay $50 per year."

"Well?"

"One day I hung up a card, stating that my 'phone was put in for the use of the neighbors alone, and that's where the funny part came in. They dropped off like leaves in autumn. Some one killed my dog, my cat was poisoned and our hired girls were frightened off by the stories of the neighbors, my wife lost callers, my church pew was hired away from me at a higher price and the boys chalked signs on my barn doors stating that I was the meanest man in Michigan. I have got my 'phone yet, but, alas! I have no neighbor who would lend me enough mustard for a midnight plaster."—Detroit Free Press.

Acting on a Suggestion.

"Do you believe in starting a third party?" asked old Mr. Dimmick of his daughter's beau, as all three sat in the parlor.

"Well," replied the young man, who had not called to discuss politics, "I wouldn't have thought of asking you to retire; but since you mention it, Mr. Dimmick, I will say that it is the general belief that two are company."—Harper's Bazar.

Pretty Far Gone.

Myrtle—He's awfully attentive to her, you know.

Lilly—How far has he gone?

Myrtle—Very far, I'm afraid. He held her prayer book upside down at church yesterday, and I'm sure I heard him say "a woman" instead of "amen!"—New York Ledger.

Domestic Peace.

Policeman (excitedly to boy on the fence outside)—What's going on in there, Johnny? Having a war dance with all the neighbors on the square?

Johnny (composedly)—Nope. Only man insistin' on dad spendin' his evenin's at home.—Washington Post.

A Wonderful Cure.

Carker (calling on friend)—Mercy! What's that frightful shouting upstairs?

Servant—That's Mr. Barker, sir.

Carker—Why, I thought he had lost his voice.

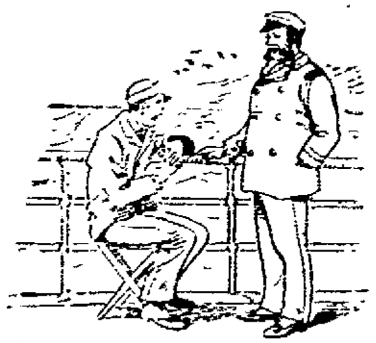
Servant—He had, sir; but he has just received the doctor's bill.—Puck.

A Plain Definition.

"What is life?" asked the teacher of the class in moral ethics.

"The absence of death," announced a scholar from the natural philosophy class, and it stood.—Washington Star.

A Remedy for Seasickness.



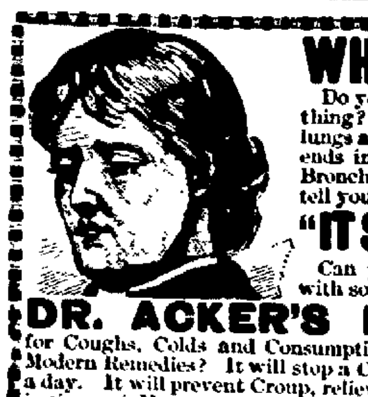
Captain—Sea-sick, eh?

Passenger—Awfully.

Captain—Know how to avoid it?

Passenger (eagerly)—How?

Captain—Sit under a shade tree.—Chicago News.



WHY DO YOU COUGH?

Do you know that a little cough is a dangerous thing? Are you aware that it often fastens on the lungs and far too often runs into Consumption and ends in Death? People suffering from Asthma, Bronchitis, Pneumonia and Consumption will all tell you that

"IT STARTED WITH A COLD."

Can you afford to neglect it? Can you trifle with so serious a matter? Are you aware that for Coughs, Colds and Consumption is beyond question the greatest of all Modern Remedies? It will stop a Cough in one night. It will check a Cold in a day. It will prevent Croup, relieve Asthma and cure Consumption if taken in time. "You can't afford to be without it." A 25 cent bottle may save you $100 in Doctor's bills—may save your life! Ask your druggist for it, or write to W. H. Hooker & Co., 46 West Broadway, New York, for book.

DR. ACKER'S ENGLISH REMEDY

FOR SALE BY H. C. HOBERMAN & CO. and W. B. FOYE.

The Secret of Success.

Denison & Co. and Hoberman & Co., druggists believe that the secret of success is perseverance. Therefore they persist in keeping the finest line of perfumeries, toilet articles, cosmetics, drugs and chemicals on the market. They especially invite all persons who have palpitation, short breath, weak or hungry spells, pain in side or shoulder, oppression, night mare, dry cough, smothering, dropsy or heart disease to try Dr. Miles' unequaled New Heart Cure, before it is too late. It has the largest sale of any similar remedy. Fine book of testimonials free. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is unsurpassed for sleeplessness, headache, fits, etc., and it contains no opiates.

A Late Discovery.

"Didn't you take me for better or for worse?"

"I took you for better, and I find that you couldn't have been worse."—Lowell Citizen.

A Remedy in Kidney Affection.

"My kidneys were so affected I have been compelled to get up as much as ten times in one night. I had pains in my side, back and left shoulder, and when down could hardly rise. I was unable to bend my body without great pain. I tried Simmons Liver Regulator and my condition has improved so much that I hardly ever feel any of my old trouble." W. Johnson, Express Ag't, Macon, Ga.

Who He Fought With.

"You say you fought all through the war, but I can't find your name on any of the enlistment rolls."

"I know it; I wasn't enlisted. I fought with my wife."—Busy Bee.

I used three bottles of "Mother's Friend," and when I was sick I never went to bed until 12:30, and my boy was born at 3 a. m. with scarcely any pain. I will do all I can in recommending it to expectant mothers. Your thankful friend,
Mrs. B. F. Walterhus.
Marion, O., Sept. 1890.
Sold at Flocken's drug store.

A Great Field.

City Parson—I have been appointed missionary to the heathen and——

Chorus of Parishioners—You are not going to leave us, are you?

City Parson—No; they told me to stay just where I was.—New York Herald.

We Can and Do

Guarantee Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir, for it has been fully demonstrated to the people of this country that it is superior to all other preparations for blood diseases. It is a positive cure for syphilitic poisoning, ulcers, eruptions and pimples. It purifies the whole system and thoroughly builds up the constitution. Sold by H. C. Hoberman & Co. and W. B. Foye.

Fido's Importance.

Mrs. De Kay Kulghn—I wish you would throw that cigar away.

Mr. De Kay Kulghn—Why, love, you said you liked to have me smoke before we were married.

Mrs. De Kay Kulghn—But I didn't have Fido then. It makes him cough dreadfully.—Puck.

Mr. James Lambert, of New Brunswick Illinois, says: "I was badly afflicted with rheumatism in the hips and legs when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It cured me in three days. I am all right today and would insist on every one who is afflicted with that terrible disease, to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm and get well at once." For sale at Flocken's drug store.

We believe we have a thorough knowledge of all the ins and outs of newspaper advertising, gained in an experience of twenty-five years of successful business; we have the best equipped office, by far the most comprehensive as well as the most convenient system of placing contracts and verifying their fulfillment and unrivaled facilities in all departments for careful and intelligent service. We offer our services to all who contemplate spending $10 or $10,000 in newspaper advertising and who wish to get the most and best advertising for the money.

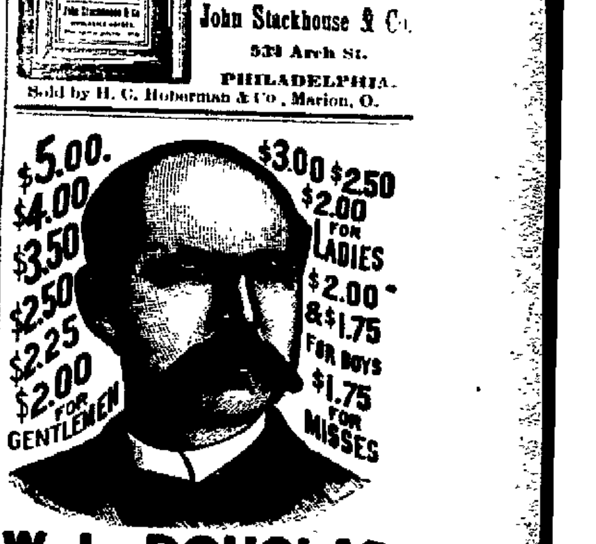
Geo. P. Rowell & Co. Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St., New York.

OSWI CATARRH REMEDY

Do not allow Catarrh in the head to continue its course unheeded and unchecked, as it affects the throat, bronchial tubes and lungs, and is liable to develop into bronchitis and consumption, that most dreaded destroyer of human life. Oswi Catarrh Remedy will cure you. Instant relief is obtained. It is soothing, antiseptic, cleansing and healing, and no injury to the system will result from its use. Cold in the Head is cured with a few applications. Catarrhal Headache is relieved and quickly cured. It removes offensive breath, loss or impairment of the sense of taste, smell, or hearing, roaring in the head, watering or weak eyes. Catarrh of the Head and Throat is a local disease and therefore can be cured only by local application of Oswi Catarrh Remedy. The great value of this remedy for Catarrh is daily becoming better known, and is recognized as the common sense method of treating this disease. 50 cents per bottle.

John Stackhouse & Co.
533 Arch St.
PHILADELPHIA.

Sold by H. C. Hoberman & Co., Marion, O.



W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE and other specialties for Gentlemen, Ladies, etc., are warranted, and so stamped on bottom. Address W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass. Sold by

J. E. RHOADS.

Chamberlain's Eye and Skin Ointment.

A certain cure for Chronic Sore Eyes, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Old Chronic Sores, Fever Sores, Eczema, Itch, Prairie Scratches, Sore Nipples and Piles. It is cooling and soothing. Hundreds of cases have been cured by it after all other treatment had failed. It is put up in 25 and 50 cent boxes.

Sold at Flocken's drug store.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

ACHE

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

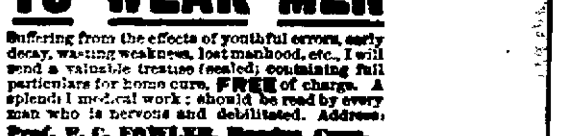
Cook's Cotton Root COMPOUND

Composed of Cotton Root, Tansy and Pennyroyal—a recent discovery by an old physician. Is successfully used monthly—Safe, Effectual. Price $1, by mail, sealed. Ladies, ask your druggist for Cook's Cotton Root Compound and take no substitute, or inclose 2 stamps for sealed particulars. Address POND LILY COMPANY, No. 3 Fisher Block, 131 Woodward ave., Detroit, Mich.

Sold in Marion by H. C. Hoberman & Co., druggists.

TO WEAK MEN

Suffering from the effects of youthful errors, early decay, wasting weakness, lost manhood, etc., I will send a valuable treatise (sealed) containing full particulars for home cure, FREE of charge. A splendid medical work; should be read by every man who is nervous and debilitated. Address, Prof. F. C. FOWLER, Moodus, Conn.



HE DID—HE DIDN'T!

Five years ago both sought our advice. We cure all WEAKNESSES & DISEASES OF MEN.

OUR NEW BOOK

explains all. Its advice is Vital. Free for limited time. Don't Trifle with Disease! ERIE MEDICAL CO., Buffalo, N. Y. Don't fail to HEED OUR WORDS!

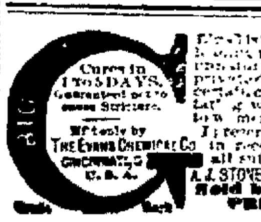
DR. SANDEN'S ELECTRIC BELT WITH SUSPENSORY FOR WEAK MEN

DEBILITATED through INDISCRETIONS or EXCESSES

WE GUARANTEE to CURE by this New IMPROVED ELECTRIC BELT AND SUSPENSORY or REFUND MONEY. Made for this specific purpose, Cure of Generative Weakness, giving Freely, Mild, Soothing, Continuous Currents of Electricity through all WEAK PARTS, restoring them to HEALTH and VIGOROUS STRENGTH. Electric Current Felt Instantly, or we forfeit $5,000 in cash. BELT and Suspensory Complete $5. and up. Worst cases Permanently Cured in three months. Sealed pamphlet Free.

SANDEN ELECTRIC CO., 819 Broadway, New York.



Big G is the acknowledged leading remedy for all the unnatural discharges and private diseases of men. A certain cure for the debilitating weakness peculiar to women.

Cures in 1 TO 5 DAYS. Guaranteed not to cause Stricture.

Mf'd only by The Evans Chemical Co. Cincinnati, O. U. S. A.

I prescribe it and feel safe in recommending it to all sufferers.
A. J. STONER, M.D., Decatur, Ill.
Sold by Druggists. PRICE $1.00.

Yake's Dress Goods and Carpet Emporium.

WASH GOODS

Elegant Scotch Zephyrs, Toile du Nord, [illegible] Henriettas, Domestic Dress Ginghams—[illegible] colors fast and durable. French [illegible] and Indian [illegible] come in beautiful designs and [illegible] colors. Prices within the reach of everybody. Early attention secures the best patterns.

D. YAKE.

COAL!

AT LOW PRICES

AT

L. B. COPLEY'S

[illegible]

TELEPHONE [illegible]

GET THE BEST

Hard or Soft

COAL

Lindley & Lawrence

West Street, Between Railroads

DRESSMAKING.—Mrs. Wm. [illegible] and Mrs. Waterman have opened up a dressmaking shop over the People's Store, and they invite those who want anything done in that line to give them a call. Satisfaction guaranteed.

FOR RENT—House of nine rooms in good repair, well, cistern and cellar. Inquire of Mrs. A. D. Bonner, No. 40 south Main street.

FOR RENT—Building No. 223 East Center street, price $[illegible] per month. Also [illegible] of second floor, 4 rooms in same building, price $10 per month. J. C. Lawrence, the Grocer.

FOR RENT—Dwelling house on east South street, $8.50 per month. Inquire of Geo. B. Copeland, over Marion County Bank.

FOR RENT—House on west Center street now occupied by Geo. Foster. Inquire of Mrs. N. E. Barnhart, 505 east South street.

FOR RENT—House on Mt. Vernon avenue. Inquire of Chas. Lucas.

FOR RENT—New six room house on Charles street. Inquire of [illegible]

FOR RENT—April 1st, 1891, 9 room dwelling house, well located, on east South street, large cemented cellar, wood house, well, cistern, etc. [illegible]

FOR RENT—A good house in west Marion, near the shops for $100 per year, payable monthly. Possession given immediately. Call on E. Ackerman, music store.

FOR RENT—A good house of seven rooms, good well, cistern and all conveniences. Inquire of Mrs. E. S. Ball, 232 south East street. Also furnished rooms for rent.

FOR SALE—One house and lot in [illegible] addition, one house and lot, 60 foot front on north Main street. Possession given before April 1st. Mrs. Maria [illegible]

FOUND—Masonic charm on north East street. Owner can have same by paying for this notice.

THE MARION STEAM SHOVEL Co. need one or two young men who are mechanically inclined or can do designing or drawing. Mail sample sketch of some machine to the company, and do not apply at office.

D. M. ODAFFER & CO.

(Successors to Odaffer & Rhodes.)

Opposite Court House, Center Street.

Druggists, Booksellers and Stationers.

[illegible]

[illegible]

Cunningham, the plumber.

See H. F. Love for fire insurance.

Buy your dry goods at Frank's closing out sale.

Frank's closing out sale for great bargains in dry goods.

[illegible] special baking powder 25c per lb. Warranted.

Wait for the grand opening of the Blue Front Clothing House, March 14th, opposite Hotel Marion.

[illegible] for sale at [illegible] per [illegible]. [illegible] at fire department.

Remember everything must be sold regardless of cost. The chance of a lifetime to buy dry goods cheap is at Frank's closing out sale.

[illegible] goods.

Try a can of Ramsdell's [illegible]

[illegible] benefit, Wednesday evening.

For sale cheap, houses in all parts of the city by J. E. Kellogg.

A fine property on north Main street for sale. See J. E. Kellogg.

The Elks' benefit promises to be the finest and best minstrel show of the season.

When you have an order for groceries leave it at Ramsdell Cash Grocery and save money.

Twenty-five to fifty per cent saved by buying your dry goods at Frank's closing out sale.

A good property for sale on north Main street. See J. E. Kellogg, at four west of postoffice.

The Elks' band and special scenery [illegible] and will be [illegible] at the benefit Wednesday evening.

Our stock is not much broken yet. You can find just what you want in dry goods and notions at a big saving at Frank's closing out sale.

The [illegible] of Moore & Kellogg will close April 1st. Any parties wanting jewelry, silverware or clocks, will do well to see them at once.

A good attendance of ladies was present at the gymnasium Monday afternoon, and [illegible] their [illegible] with an enthusiasm that augurs [illegible] success.

The Odd Fellows held an extra long session Tuesday night. They were adopting some new laws, and it was long after midnight before the meeting was closed.

The funeral party of John Moore passed through here on train 4 Monday night. About twenty-five of the friends and relatives of deceased accompanied the remains to the East.

Mrs. D. B. Morrill has secured the agency of Madame Demarest's celebrated [illegible] supporting corset and shoulder brace combined. They are made to order and guaranteed to fit.

The Amateur Club Association has decided to give the grand Easter ball on March 31st. The dance will be given at Music Hall with music by the Newark orchestra. The boys will make an effort to give one of the finest.

Do not forget the Hoyt-Longfellow lecture this evening at Music Hall, by Rev. Theodore F. Clark, of Brooklyn, subject: "A Magazine Journey from New York to Central India." Mr. Clark has few if any equals as a lecturer or [illegible]

John Henry, a veteran soldier who resides in West Marion, met with an accident at his home Monday afternoon [illegible] He made a misstep and [illegible]

The Marion post team will play at Kenton Wednesday of next week [illegible]

R. L. Lee [illegible] this evening [illegible]

Sheriff Kelly made a business trip to [illegible]

Miss [illegible] Kelly of [illegible] is a guest at the home of M. E. Kelly.

[illegible] Pittenger returned this morning from his home in West Liberty.

W. [illegible] Turner has been seriously [illegible] but has somewhat recovered.

Don't fail to see the [illegible] drill at the Elks' benefit Wednesday night.

John Lee and wife, of Caledonia, were in the city today visiting friends.

Frank Fishbeck is able to be out again after a two weeks siege of sickness.

Emery [illegible] is about the streets again, and expects to be able to resume work some time this month.

J. Williams, of Chicago, is the guest of Miss Florence [illegible], on east Center street.

Mrs. A. Bonner has moved to her home [illegible] south of her former residence.

[illegible] has returned from a two weeks visit with relatives in [illegible]

J. W. Pittenger of West Liberty is [illegible] the wedding of his son Wednesday evening.

Miss [illegible], the assistant High school teacher, is unable to attend to her duties on account of sickness.

[illegible] has returned to her home in [illegible], after a pleasant visit [illegible]

[illegible] returned to [illegible] this morning, where he will remain five or six weeks, and then return here to reside.

Special Jurors Drawn.

Following is the list of jurors drawn to hear the Whaley murder trial, appearance being required March 26th, at 9 a.m.:

John Kapp—Green Camp.
John Oller—Prospect.
Winfield Dickason—Montgomery.
Hugh E. Smith—Claridon.
James M. Harvey—Marion.
W. E. Bowman—Bowling Green.
Samuel Rose—Tully.
W. C. Kramer—Richland.
Charles A. Warwick—Claridon.
A. Moore—Green Camp.
Edmund Swyer—Marion 2d Ward.
Wm. Sears—Waldo.
Charles Fishbaugh—Richland.
John O'Hearn—Marion 2d Ward.
[illegible]—Big Island.
George Blum—Marion 1st Ward.
Thomas W. Bennett—Scott.
Henry E. Miller—Pleasant.
John F. Woodruff—Marion 4th Ward.
J. F. Barnhouse—Grand.
Albert Jones—Bowling Green.
Philip Bumford—Big Island.
C. E. Lippencott—Montgomery.
Samuel Fulton—Prospect.
John Clingle—Richland.
John Harvey—Marion 3rd Ward.
A. H. Jenkins—Green Camp.
[illegible]—Salt Rock.
E. M. Wagner—Claridon.
Frank Snider—Prospect.
Jacob Ulmer—Richland.
S. Oppenheimer—Marion 4th Ward.
James McKinney—Tully.
Milton Baron—Montgomery.
[illegible]—Marion 1st Ward.
Jacob Roach—Marion 1st Ward.

Common Pleas Court.

Wesley Crum, who was indicted by the grand jury for larceny and plead not guilty at the indictment, was given an opportunity to change his plea today, when he admitted his guilt. He was at once sentenced to 10 days in jail and fined $20 and costs, to stand committed until paid. Frank Crum, the father and fellow-thief of Wesley, has not as yet been apprehended.

The petit jury is having an easy time of it this term of court, the tendency [illegible] settle cases [illegible] them off from [illegible] work. Two cases assigned for today were settled before coming to trial, being those of [illegible] against John S. McNeal, administrator, and Martha Wipper against [illegible] Richardson. The former was settled by plaintiff receiving $250 and defendant agreeing to pay costs. The latter, in which plaintiff sued for $[illegible] claimed to be due for work, was settled by both parties agreeing to pay their own costs.

Commercial Men, Attention.

The cheapest mode of purchasing [illegible] the new [illegible] interchangeable [illegible] mileage books issued by the [illegible] Valley and [illegible] They are good over [illegible] at the low rate of twenty dollars each. For particulars inquire of agents of [illegible] route or address W. H. Fisher, general passenger agent, Columbus, O.

Alliance Notice.

The next regular meeting of the Marion County Farmers' Alliance will be held at the probate court room Saturday, March 21st at 1 p.m. All the [illegible] in the county are requested to be represented by their delegates and the secretaries will please be prompt with their quarterly reports. [illegible], Pres. [illegible], Sec.

Take Notice.

All persons interested in Marion cemetery [illegible] are requested [illegible]

B. P. O. Elks.

[illegible] will occur Wednesday [illegible] with the [illegible] desired that all be present. No visitors, with the exception of Elks, will be admitted.

D. A. FRANK & CO.

The latest styles in [illegible] and fit them for [illegible] per pair.

The best Dress Form Corset made [illegible] them for $1.00 and guarantee them.

American Serges, [illegible]

Colored [illegible] Fringes [illegible]

We have [illegible] Goods ever shown in Marion.

Lansdowne, [illegible] and [illegible] spring dresses [illegible] and the price [illegible]

D. A. FRANK & CO.'S,

White Front, Masonic Block.

SPRING JACKETS.

The new shapes with the new trimmings. Our jackets are always correct in shape and perfect in fit.

Warner & Edwards.

DRESS SILKS.

Extra values in Gros Grains, Silk Serges, Rhadames, Peau-de-Soie, [illegible], and Spring shades in Faille at the remarkably low price of 75 cents. The quality is unequalled at the price.

Warner & Edwards.

SPRING DRESSES.

We have the Plaids, we have the Checks, we have the Stripes, we have the Plain goods in the newest shades. We have the very best of the new Trimmings.

Warner & Edwards.

OUTING CLOTHS.

We are showing these goods in great variety, in perfectly fast colors. The patterns are equal to the fine French Flannels.

Warner & Edwards.

ZEPHYR GINGHAMS.

In both the Imported and the Domestic qualities. Now is the time to get the choice patterns.

Warner & Edwards.

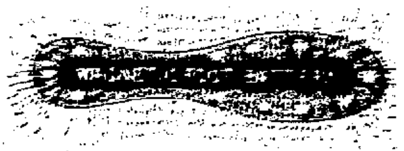
CHALLIES.

These goods start at 5 cents per yard and are in perfectly fast colors. The new French Challies in patterns are very much admired. They are always very scarce late in the season.

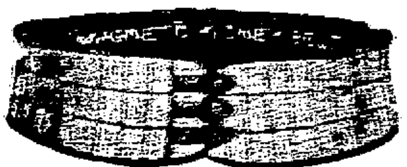
Warner & Edwards.

Magnetic Insoles

Keep your feet warm, cure rheumatism [illegible]



[illegible] Magnetic Belts will cure [illegible], paralysis, back and kidney complaints.



Marion, February 16, 1891.

"This is to certify that we bought of Prof. Birdwell, at Toledo, about 3 years since, when he was here, a pair of the magnetic insoles, and they having done as represented, we recommend them to anyone troubled in any way in the feet or limbs." [illegible] Roberts, Wm. E. [illegible], [illegible] Henry, Eli Smith, W. A. [illegible]. Prof. Birdwell will be at the Kerr House on March 16th to 19th.

[illegible] SALE

Selling Out at Cost at the [illegible] Syndicate.

Cups and saucers 30 and 35c per set; seven inch dinner plates 30c.
Pie plates, 25c.
One 96-piece decorated dinner set, $[illegible]
One decorated chamber set, $2.25.
Chambers, 25c.
Thread, 3c per spool.
Box of child's hose, 5c per pair.
Dress buttons, all kinds, 5c.
Lamp chimneys, 5c.
Two-quart covered buckets, 8c.
Three-quart covered buckets, 10c.
Four-quart [illegible] 15c.
Fourteen-quart buckets, 15c.
Twelve-quart buckets, 12c.
German [illegible] 5c.
Double and [illegible] 5c.
Chairs at cost.
Tooth picks, 3c per box.
Stove polish, 4 cakes for 10c.
Rubber tip lead pencils, 1c.
Glass tumblers, 25c per dozen.
Dinner sets, 25c per set.
Cups and saucers.

Also a few pieces of fine bronze vases, which will be sold for much less than cost.

Matches and carpet tacks, 1c per box.

Come and secure some of our bargains before it is too late.

[illegible]

SALE.

[illegible]

at [illegible]

111 South Main St.

The only strictly cash grocery.

SYRUP OF FIGS

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50c and $1 bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.

LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK, N.Y.

DECORATIVE GOODS

New Japanese Goods,
New Bamboo Goods,
New Mouldings,
New Statuary,
New Art Goods,
New Stamped Linens,
New Etchings and Engravings.

All kinds of Needle Art Work stamped or done to order by Miss Sherbrooke, of Columbus, O. All at reasonable prices.

LANDON'S

West Center Street. Fisher Block.

A PERMANENT SUCCESS

Must have positive merit.
Then try a pair of

STOLL'S SOLID, SERVICEABLE SHOES,

AT

J. H. STOLL'S,

South Main St., [illegible]

GRAND PALACE HOTEL

81 to 103 North Clark Street,

CHICAGO.

Four Minutes from Court House [illegible]

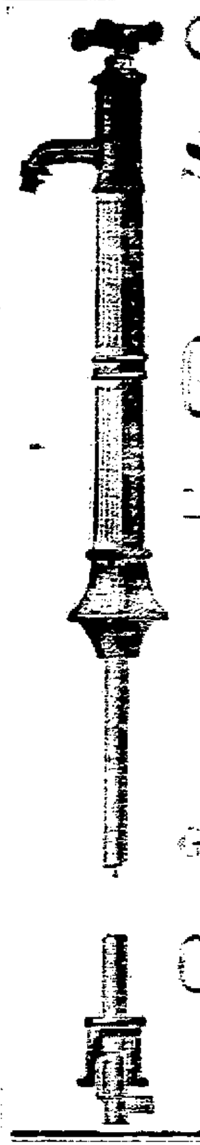
Restaurant by Compagnon, late Chicago Club chef.

[illegible]

ADVERTISE IN THE STAR

THE MOST WIDELY

READ PAPER IN COUNTY.



Cunningham & Stowe,

221 East Center Street.

Sanitary Plumbers,

Steam and Gas Fitting.

GAS FIXTURES!

Lawn Hydrants

and

Street Washers!

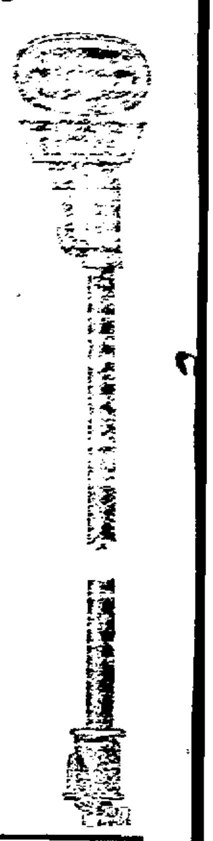
[illegible]

Brass and Galvanized Iron Pipe.

Guaranteed Against Frost.

CUNNINGHAM & STOWE.

221 EAST CENTER STREET.



WILLIAMS & LEFFLER,

THE LEADING

Merchant Tailors

ARE NOW SHOWING ALL THE

Novelties and Staples of the Season

IN

Fall and Winter Goods!

A Perfect Fit and Satisfaction Guaranteed.

OYSTERS!

The leading Oyster House in Marion is the

ENGLISH KITCHEN

The best brands on hand, fresh, at all times. Sold by can or served to order.

B. HALL, Proprietor.

LUMBER,

Lumber, Lumber,

CHEAP AT

PRENDERGASTS'.

WAIT! WAIT! WAIT!

The Blue Front Clothing House,

The cheapest and best place for Clothing, Hats, Caps, Furnishing Goods, Etc., will reopen March 14th with an entire new stock. We extend to the people of Marion and surrounding counties our most sincere thanks for past favors and solicit a continuence of same for the new firm. Respectfully,

Blue Front Clothiers.